DAILY TRIBUNE.

Tuesday Morning .... Feb. 10, 1857.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

MR. RICHMOND will lecture this evening at Metropolitan Hall, "on the Manners and Customs of the Turks." We advise those who are interested in oriental manners and men, and those wishing to be acquainted with either or both to attend. It will pay whoever may go.

PETITION TO REMOVE THE DUTY ON SUGAR.—The Washington Globe of the 28th informs us that Mr. Woodworth, Member of Congress from the Chicago (Ills.) district, presented a memorial from J. H. Dunham, and 130 others, citizens of Chicago, praying Congress to remove all duties from imported sugars.

POLICE COURT—MONDAY.—George Throsell was fined $5 for interfering with an officer. D. West was fined $15 for being drunk and a vagrant. Augustus Cillian was fined $4 for vagrancy. For being drunk and disorderly, Ada Lamont was fined $1 and sent to the Bridewell for twenty days; William Billen, N. G. Smithson and William Murry $2 each.

LARCENY OF CLOTHING.—James Murphey was committed for trial by Justice Pendergast, in default of $500 bail, upon a charge of stealing $7.25 worth of clothing from John F. Cline, at No. 14 West Lake street. Murphey has just served out a sentence in the Bridewell, for stealing a half barrel of pork.

WEST DIVISION MEETING.—The meeting held at the West Market to take into consideration the subject of amending the charter, was largely attended. A series of resolutions, introduced by S. S. Hays, Esq., were voted down and after considerable discussion a resolution was finally passed disapproving of any amendments.

THE CHICAGO, ST. PAUL AND FOND DU LAC RAILROAD.—The London Times of January 8th announces that the Chicago, St. Paul and Fond du Lac Railroad Company offer for sale 800 first mortgages seven per cent. bonds of that Company for $1,000 each, due 1855, interest payable half yearly, 1st February and 1st August, redeemable by a sinking fund of 1½ per cent. per annum of the bonds issued, and convertible into the stock of the Company at par, at the option of the holder, at any time before their maturity."

C. M. I. A.—The Chicago Mutual Improvement Association, will meet as usual in South Market Hall, this evening at 7½ o'clock. The question for discussion is,

Resolved, That the American people should not demand the restoration of the Missouri Compromise of 1820.

Affirmative, Mr. T. T. Gurney; Negative, Mr. L. F. Hubbard.

An Essay, Recitation and Reading may be expected. The public are respectfully invited to attend.

THE STABBING AFFRAY.—S. Vincent was arrested on Saturday night upon a charge of having stabbed McCarthy in the row on Market street noticed in our paper of yesterday. It appeared that McCarthy, Vincent and a friend were returning from the Amphitheatre when they were attacked by three ruffians, and the police interfered, arresting Vincent and permitting the assailants to escape. Yesterday Vincent was discharged, there being no testimony against him. It would be a hard job to find a more worthless Police than the one which just now disgraces our city.

THE ACCIDENT ON THE ROCK ISLAND R. R.—THREE LIVES LOST—AN ENGINE AND SEVEN CARS DESTROYED—FULL PARTICULARS.—We have obtained full particulars of the fatal accident that occurred on Friday night last on the Rock Island Railroad, by which three lives were lost and several cars destroyed. It seems that the freight train (J. F. Taylor, Conductor,) was due at Joliet at 10 P. M., where the night express passed. On arriving near Du Page Bridge, (at twenty minutes to 11,) seven miles from Joliet, Mr. Taylor looked out, but could see nothing in the appearance of the bridge indicating its critical condition, and, as the engineer was doubtless similarly deceived, the train moved on slowly and carefully; but no sooner was the engine fairly on the bridge, than down it went, with a terrific crash, into the angry and swollen current that roared beneath, dragging after it seven cars, the others only being kept from falling by the prompt application of the brakes at the conductor's signal.

When the confusion consequent upon the calamity had, in a measure, died away, and the extent of the accident been ascertained, it was found that the engineer, fireman and one brakesman, were missing. But it was no time to shed unavailing tears. The night express would soon be due, and unless some signal could be given to warn the engineer the whole train, with its precious load, would be dashed into the fearful abyss. It was preposterous to think of trying to cross the river, and the only mode left for Mr. Taylor was to place men with lights on the car nearest the river, which had partially fallen over the broken bridge. This plan was instantly adopted, and four men, besides Mr. Taylor, swung their lanterns to warn the expected train of the impending danger. They remained in this position upwards of an hour, exposed to the cold and the biting wind, which was blowing a perfect hurricane. Nor was this all—far from it; for in case the signals were not observed, the on-coming train would certainly leap across the breach and dash Mr. Taylor and his brave comrades into pieces. But they heroically stood to their posts, fully determined to die rather than avoid a conscientious duty. This was true heroism, and too much honor cannot be accorded those who have so nobly proved their manhood and mettle.

The Du Page bridge can be seen about one mile and a half this side, and it was hoped by Mr. Taylor that the engineer would here discover the warning signals, and check his train, or come on slowly. Fortunately, providentially, we might say, this was the case. The lights were seen, and the speed of the train checked, and when it neared the bridge, the cries of Mr. Taylor and his men effected a stoppage of the train, and parties were sent forward to examine into the cause of the alarm. It was enough to make the strongest tremble, and many a heart quivered as a full appreciation of the awful calamity that would have resulted but for Mr. Taylor's exertions, broke upon them.

On examination it was found that that the ice and swollen river had carried away two of the stone abutments which sustained the bridge, it giving way instantly under the weight of the locomotive, which immediately sank in twelve feet of water, so that nothing but the top of the smoke pipe was visible. The freight cars which were precipitated with the engine, were rapidly carried off, so strong and powerful was the flooded stream.

The bodies of the engineer and firemen were found, yesterday, crushed and mangled, about the engine. They were evidently instantly killed. The brakesman's body has not yet been found.

The engineer's name was E. H. Jewel. He was a native of New Hampshire, and been connected with the N. Y. and Erie Railroad. He bore an excellent character—was honest, temperate, and industrious, not more than 30 years of age, and leaves behind him a sorrow-stricken wife and three children.

The fireman—Henry Kane—was a young unmarried man. His home is in Rochester, N. Y.

Both bodies were sent east yesterday to friends or relatives.

The brakesman's—Dennis O'Callahan—body, as we have said, has not as yet been found. He was possessed of quite a little property, lived at Rock Island, and had only been married but about four months.

The accident was most certainly a heart rending one, but we cannot speak too highly of the successful efforts made by Mr. Taylor, and his men, to avert one that would have been of a ten-fold more destructive and appalling nature, nor can we omit mentioning that Mr. G. H. Doane, a printer, did Mr. Taylor acceptable and active service in displaying the warning signals, and that he said, when told of the danger to which he was exposed, "that he did'nt care if he did die in a good cause." Such men are an honor to their species!

COMMON COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.—The regular meeting of the Council was held last evening. The following proceedings of general interest were had:

A communication from the Mayor was read, stating that certain persons were attempting to induce the Legislature to change the law creating the Recorder's Court, whereupon the following resolutions were unanimously passed and the Clerk was directed to furnish the members of the Legislature from this county with a certified copy:

[illegible]

On motion of Ald. D'Wolf a resolution was unanimously passed requesting the members of the Legislature from this county to urge the passage of the bill, now before the Legislature, creating a State Reform School. Copies of the resolution were directed to be sent to members.

The Mayor stated that there were seventy-five families in the North Division, fifty-five in the West Division and twenty-five in the South Division, whose dwellings had been rendered untenable by the freshet on Saturday and which were now untenable, owing to the fact that the water had frozen over in the dwellings. These families are suffering and the Mayor thought some means should be provided for their relief. A special committee, consisting of the Mayor, Ellithorpe and Willard, was appointed to investigate the matter. On motion of Ald. Holden $500 were appropriated for the relief of the sufferers.

A resolution was passed allowing the City Attorney and Mayor to enter into such stipulations as they may deem proper, with the defendants in suits instituted, or about to be instituted, by the city for the collection of the assessments for extending La Salle street.

An order was passed directing that $4,525 94 be assessed upon property deemed benefitted, for the filling of North Water, Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Ontario, Erie, Huron and Superior streets, from Rush to Sand streets; also, $1,424 77 for filling Pine street from North Water to Chicago Avenue; also, $5,900 58 for filling Pine street from the river to Superior street; also, $7,585 78 for filling North Clark street from Ontario street to Chicago Avenue. F. A. Bragg, P. A. Hoyne, and James Duffy were elected to make the above assessments.

A petition from the different milk dealers was presented, asking the passage of an ordinance prohibiting the sale of impure milk. Referred to a Committee.

At 12 o'clock the Council had not adjourned.

The Masked Ball.

Is't some wild vision of the night
Where fair Queen Mab holds sovereign sway;
Or burst upon my dazzled sight
A glimpse of Fairy land so gay?
Oh no! the bright eyes shining there
Each snowy brow and blushing cheek;
Each lordly form and step of air
Of earth's far dearer beauties speak
All though in strange fantastic guise
The youthful forms are clad this eve;
Yet still in every quaint disguise
Some well known face one can perceive.
First graceful as a Fairy Queen,
Her own sweet self she deigns to be;
The prompter of this glittering scene,
Hostess of this fair companie.
See yonder quaintly group appears
Their mein, their dress, their home declare
A dignified Knight Templar he—
As starry night his wife so fair.
Pensive and slow a cowled Monk
With cross and rosary at his side
And eyes downcast the world to shun,
A veiled sister is his care
Her dark veil o'er her shoulders flung—
Ah! is she not the Lady Clare
Of whom the Northern minstrels sung
Contrasted with these cloistered ones
Young Nourmahal flits graceful by;
Hastening within her garden shades
The magic wreath to coil and tie.
And see on yonder rich divan
Imperial Selim lounge in state,
Why stands no slave with pipe or fan
Upon the lordly Turk to wait?
Rebecca now with turbaned brow
And queen-like step glides slowly on,
She gazes sadly round the scene
Ah where can Ivanhoe be gone.
Sickle in hand bright Ceres comes
And by her side Miss Trot so lame.
Miss Flight, in garb of former years,
At once announces her queer name—
Gives way to yonder well rigged Jean.
Whose dress to ancient finis pertains,
To Dame Bedott he bowing low,
Converses with such courtly pains;
And other old school beaux are there
With perfumed locks and and jewelled swords,
Who walk about with stately air
And graceful bow to every word;
But who is that in Scottish dress,
With such dark locks and lofty mien
A flower from Highland wilderness,
Flora Mac Ivar, she I mean.
A graceful Persian near her stands,
And bandit chiefs are bending nigh;
Their plumed caps are in their hands,—
And faces full of daring high.
See yonder lovely flower girl,
With laughing eyes and flushing cheeks,
And teeth as white as Eastern pearl,
And lips that smile where'er she speaks.
Yonder's Gotham's chief appears,
In gorgeous Indian garments dressed,
As if he, from his cultural years,
Roved in some wild region of the West.
Now steals a-long an old Paul Pry—
"I hope I don't intrude to-night,"—
Now there's a Grecian maid you see,
With all her Eastern finery dight.
Hark to that ringing tambourine
And that sweet voice so high and clear—
A lovely Switzer maid I see
Has wandered from her mountains here.
A Hurdy-gurdy girls around
Formed from the earth's most distant lands,
Enchanted by the merry sounds—
How yonder swart Laplander stands!
Fair "Morning," with her quiet mien,
And sunny smile, is standing near;
By her a Spanish dame is seen,
And stately Spanish cavalier.
A pretty page, with bright blue eyes
And roguish way, as page should wear,
And plumed cap, comes hurrying by
With mission to his lady fair.
See yon dark silent stranger stands—
His garb at once declares his home;
From distant China's unknown land
He has been tempted here to roam.
That sweet Vivandiere hovering near
Can win no smile from his bright eye;
The music does not charm his ear—
His soul is 'neath his own bright sky.
But see that handsome sailor boy—
His bright eyes dancing with delight—
His heart seems brimming o'er with joy,
To gaze upon a scene so bright.
A gay young officer is there,
And noblemen with bearing high,
And peasant lads with joyous air,
And peasant girls with sunny eye.
And never yet since Yankee land
Has won a name in tale or song,
Was gathered such a motley band
And such a joyous, happy throng;
And ne'er two truer Yankee hearts
Swopped watches 'neath New England sky,
Than those who sported now their parts
And gazed around with such cold eye.
Green Erin's merry, joyous son,
With tongue so rich and heart so true,—
A compound strange of love and fun,—
Glances around his eye of blue.
And many more of brave and fair,
More than my weary pen may tell,
Each in some foreign guise are there,
And every part is acted well.
Long will the memory of this night
Be cherished in each youthful breast,—
And to the hostess, fair and bright,
Be paid the thanks of every guest.

THE STORM AND THE RAILROADS—BRIDGES AND CULVERTS SWEPT AWAY—DETENTION OF TRAINS.—We yesterday obtained the following particulars in relation to the effect of the storm and flood of Saturday, upon the different railroads leading from this city—

CHICAGO AND ROCK ISLAND RAILROAD—STATEMENT OF PASSENGERS.—The undersigned passengers of the train leaving Chicago last Friday night for Ottawa and Rock Island, by way of testimonial to the good conduct of agents of the road connected with the following events, publish this statement.

On the night of the 6th inst., Marshall O. Parker as Conductor, and Henry Tuell as Engineer, had in charge the passenger train going west from Chicago to Ottawa, Peoria and Rock Island. Proceeding as far as Joliet, and waiting in vain the allotted time for the coming of the night freight train from the west, we proceeded westward as far as the river Du Page, about seven miles southwest of Joliet, where they met the freight train in disaster. The bridge over that river was found to have given away, plunging the engine, tender, and seven freight cars into the flood, killing the engineer, fireman, and a brakeman. The engine had dashed into the water upright, and was found with its bell just reached by the stream, and the cakes of ice as they struck the bell kept ringing it slowly and solemnly, as if tolling the death of those who had tended and taken care of it. The name of the Engineer killed on the freight train was —— Jewell, of the brakeman, Dennis Calahan. Name of the fireman unknown.

Three agents or hands of the freight train survived the wreck. These men climbed upon the wrecked cars as they lay in the flood, lashing themselves so as not to be blown off by the tempest, and there, by having one only remaining light, succeeded in arresting the attention of our watchful engineer. Their names are Jeremiah Kennedy, Michael Morgan and H. D. Doan. These men too seemed to have risked their own lives to save ours.

In the freight cars were some horses, all drowned save one, which was struggling still to regain the bank and at last succeeded.

The break in the bridge was such as to afford our Conductor the hope of being able by building a foot bridge to put his passengers onward by the coming up of a train from the west. Accordingly he backed his train to Joliet, procured lumber and timbers, and returned to the spot, and rallying forces, at dead of night, (about two o'clock,) in the face of rain falling in torrents, and of a wind that blew a hurricane, this Conductor constructed his bridge, working with his men till morning. But no train from the west arrived. The storm had prostrated the telegraph poles; no tidings could be got of western trains, and his bridge, so intrepidly constructed, proved unavailing. He again backed his train to, and a short distance east of Joliet, to another bridge which had become too infirm to be passed by a locomotive. There he was met by the next train west from Chicago, took its passengers by a hand car, and returned again to the river Du Page in hope of transferring them to a train from the west. For that purpose he waited all day, Saturday; but from the west there came no train nor tidings of any train. At 6 o'clock P. M. he transferred his passengers to the last train from Chicago, thither conveys and there delivers them in safety.

From us, passengers of this train, the conduct of these men, Conductor and Engineer has elicited the following resolutions:

Resolved, That Marshall O. Parker, Conductor of the night train from Chicago to Ottawa, Peoria and Rock Island, and Henry Tuell, the Engineer, exhibited on the fearful night of the 6th inst., great prudence and decision, and so saved their train from a collision with the wreck of the freight train at Du Page Bridge, and their passengers from destruction; and that they have shown extraordinary energy, decision, and fidelity to duty in their efforts to ... [illegible] their relief and safety afterwards; and that they have given us proof never to be forgotten, of their fitness for the highly responsible stations which they hold.

Resolved, That a copy of this our account, and resolutions be furnished for publication in the Chicago papers, and that copies of the above resolution be presented to the Conductor and Engineer.

A pier was carried away at the bridge over Fox River at Ottawa, and two small bridges between Bureau and Pond Creek.

Trains will run regularly on the Rock Island Road we are informed, to-day.

CHICAGO ALTON AND ST. LOUIS ROAD.

The Hickory Creek bridge on this road is reported impassable. The down train on Friday night was rapidly approaching the bridge, when the engineer perceiving a light in the window of a house near the bridge, and suspecting some danger, shut off. As he rounded the curve at that place, a man was at the bridge swinging a lantern, which immediately convinced him that the bridge was impassable. Had it not been for that light in the window a most fearful accident would have occurred, as the bridge was held in its place by only a stake or two, and the weight of a heavily loaded train would have carried it away. It is also reported that two small culverts South of this bridge, were washed away.

MICHIGAN CENTRAL ROAD.

The bridge at Ypsilanti, on this road, was carried away, being the only structure injured by the flood. Trains are running regularly, but a few moments delay being occasioned while transferring passengers.

SOUTHERN MICHIGAN ROAD.

The report that the bridge over the Calumet, on the line of this road, had been carried away, was incorrect. None of the structures on this road were seriously damaged, and trains run as usual.

CHICAGO AND MILWAUKEE ROAD.

The bridge across the North Branch is being put in repair and teams run regularly.

GALENA AND CHICAGO UNION ROAD.

The report that the bridge across Fox river at Elgin had been carried away, was incorrect; that structure being uninjured. On the main line a culvert at Wayne, and one culvert beyond, was destroyed, and a portion of the embankment was washed away. On the "Air Line" a portion of the embankment at Mill Creek Bridge was carried away by the flood; the bridge at DeKalb was broken down, and a portion of the embankment between Geneva and the Junction washed out. A large force of men are engaged in repairing damages and the delay will be only temporary. Trains on the Main Line run as usual.

CHICAGO AND BURLINGTON ROAD.

This road has probably suffered to a greater extent than any other. Not only has the bridge at Aurora been destroyed, but five stone culverts west of that place, were carried away, and the embankments washed out, while the bridge at Bureau was carried away. Trains run on this road as far as Aurora. Every effort is being made to repair the damages, and it is hoped that the road will soon be all right again.

CHICAGO LODGE, No. 55, I. O. O. F.

Officers and Gentlemen:—WHEREAS, That our Worthy Lodge has received intelligence of the death of our worthy brother, Past Grand Benjamin C. Welch, at Manchester, England, December, 1856, therefore

Resolved, That we deeply sympathise with the afflicted relations and friends of our lamented brother, and while we mourn his departure from among us, we trust that he is received into that Celestial Lodge above, where the Supreme Architect of the universe presides.

Resolved, That our deceased brother, by his goodness of heart and kindness of manner, had endeared himself to us in the ties of friendship and brotherly love, which we shall ever cherish, while we bow to the will of our Divine Master, believing that he "doeth all things well."

Resolved, That the Secretary of this Lodge send a copy of these resolutions to the family of the deceased brother, and also to the daily papers, with a request to publish.

THE LIFE-RESTORING WIZARD.—This is a title that ought to be bestowed upon Dr. H. James, (formerly of Calcutta, India,) or upon his son-in-law, Dr. Tilton, who is now stopping at the Massasoit House, in this city. Dr. James discovered in the East Indies several miraculous medicines for the worst diseases to which frail humanity is subjected. The principal of these preparations is "The Extract of Cannabis Indica," of the chief ingredient of which Bayard Taylor speaks so enthusiastically in his account of his Oriental wanderings. This potent curative, by the skill of the Old Doctor, has been converted into the only sure remedy for Consumption ever known. It is also a sure and speedy remedy for nervous debility, no matter how produced, asthma, bronchitis, coughs and colds. Dr. Tilton traveled with the Old Doctor, shared his practice, and learned his system thoroughly. He dispenses the old gentleman's medicines by full authority, and with a degree of skill that is working miracles of restoration among the hopeless sick of this vicinity. He will remain here but a few weeks longer, and that only in obedience to the strongest solicitations. "Make hay while the sun shines."

Let those who doubt it visit Dr. Tilton. He has all the medicines with him that are needed, prepared by the old Doctor himself with great care and expense, and a Spiro-Dynameter to test the strength of the lungs, and ascertain the exact state of the patient's health.

P. S.—By addressing Dr. Tilton a note through the Chicago Post Office, inclosing four stamps, (12 cents,) a recipe will be sent in return free of charge to any part of the Union.

DR. TILTON, Massasoit House.

[For the Tribune.]

MILK QUESTION—GENTLEMEN:—In the article over my signature, published in your last Friday's issue, one material error was made. The man who is at present using the Bacon's milk which I rejected is Fiske instead of Fisher. I am anxious this correction should be made, inasmuch as there is a milk dealer by the name of Fisher, and I would not willingly do any man injustice.

In your to-day's paper I find an article from a nameless correspondent, who reiterates the charges made against me, and which have been refuted time and time again, to the satisfaction of all reasonable people, and I would refer your correspondent to the statement of the case made by Justice D'Wolf, before whom the trial was had. I do not know the name of your correspondent, but would like to ask what right he has to bring groundless charges against me?—who is he that feels called upon to write lengthy articles for newspaper publication, with the apparent purpose of injuring my business? How happens it that he assumes the responsibility to deny the statement made by Mr. D'Wolf? It looks much as if there was a "nigger in the fence." I do not know but your correspondent is at once honest and disinterested, but I much doubt if he is either—that he is either dishonest or misinformed is certain. I suspect the article referred to, was written by, or at least emanated from Mr. Fiske, the milk dealer who is advertising pure milk, and who has for the past week, if I am correctly informed, been active in circulating reports to my injury. Had he been aware that on Friday last one of his own milk pedlars came to me and offered to make a public statement under oath, that it was Mr. Fiske's custom to adulterate and compound his milk, and that he did it to a greater extent than any dealer of his acquaintance. I think he would hardly have been willing to jeopardize his business by an investigation that must have condemned him of the very acts he charges upon others.

The way your correspondent volunteers for the defence of Bacon's swill-slop milk, is a "caution to the justification of sinners." The fact that Mr. Fiske is selling Bacon's milk, and that this correspondent of your's defends Mr. Bacon, leads one naturally to the conclusion that Mr. Fiske is the author of the article in question. The public will judge how far the statements of an unprincipled competitor, who has not the courage to place his name to his declarations, are worthy of confidence or belief. I am happy to be able to say to Mr. Fiske, and all others engaged in this attack upon me, that although I have lost some customers, I have gained more than I have lost, and am every day greeted warmly by my friends, who assure me I furnish the best milk in the city, and that the unprovoked and unwarrantable attacks made upon me by other dealers will work for me a permanent advantage.

Great Freshet on the Hudson.

ALBANY, Feb. 9.

As was anticipated yesterday, the tremendous flood of last night occasioned damage to an amount impossible at present to conjecture, but which cannot fail to reach $2,000,000. All last night the city was the scene of the utmost confusion and excitement. The citizens were engaged all last evening on the docks and in the lower part of the city, in removing goods and storing them away in the second stories of the stores and buildings, where it was thought the flood would not reach them; but these calculations proved erroneous.

About half-past 10 o'clock the ice commenced moving in the river with tremendous force, threatening the bridge on State street for some time. The water rose so rapidly that all those working on the docks and piers were compelled to make a rapid retreat.

The water in the river commenced rising until 5 o'clock this morning, when it reached a point three feet higher than ever known before. The entire lower part of the city is flooded as high as Greene street. The lower part of Herkimer, Hudson, Lydia, Hamilton and parallel streets are submerged to the first stories of the buildings on them. The water flowed through Broadway, from the Exchange to the Delavan House, flooding the stores and filling the cellars.

The streets between Broadway and the river are navigable for boats.

When the great flood commenced it was about two o'clock in the morning, and the water rose six inches in five minutes. Persons who had retired to bed, thinking themselves safe, were aroused by horsemen, who rode through the water, knocking at the doors of houses to arouse the sleepers to a sense of their danger. The wildest confusion prevailed. The people in the lower part of the city had barely time to escape with their lives. A large number of cattle were stabled in the distilleries, their bellowing and cries adding excitement to the scene, were drowned about 3 o'clock.

The alarm bells were sounded for fire, when flames were discovered bursting forth from houses in different parts of the city.

Warner & Son's lime kilns and buildings on South street and Broadway, Gibsons & Dalton's planing and plastering mills at the foot of South street and W. R. Barrett's fire brick store on the pier, were in flames at the same time, having in each case ignited through the slacking of lime.

The depth of water rendered it impossible for the engines to reach the scene of the conflagration; but the firemen put off in boats and with buckets and water confined the flames to the buildings where they originated. About this time the wind changed and the weather become piercingly cold. The propeller Western World lying in front of Barret's store, caught fire and was scuttled and sunk to save her cargo of 4,000 bushels of corn.

LATER.

The excitement consequent upon the flood and fire has continued unabated through the day. The Common Council met this afternoon and appointed a committee to take immediate steps to relieve the sufferings. The Court and Grand Jury room in the City Hall is thrown open for the reception of the suffering. A large supply of goods and bedding were sent in by the citizens.

A meeting of the citizens was also held this afternoon—Erastus Corning, President, Geo. Dawson, Secretary. Committees were appointed, who started immediately for the flooded district with boats to relieve sufferers. They were furnished with blank orders signed by Erastus Corning, regardless of expense, for procuring all funds needed for the comfort and preservation of those deprived of homes.

The water is not yet receding, although there has been no perceptible rise since 4 o'clock. All the afternoon teams have been employed in dragging in such dead cattle as could be reached. Boats also continued to land families, but owing to impositions of the owners they could not be engaged under an enormous expense. The police therefore received orders to seize such boats if necessary for the safety of citizens.

The damage is still impossible to be conjectured.

The ice on the pier is piled up 20 feet.

The extensive Agricultural Machine shop of R. H. Pease, on the bank of the river at Bath, is split in twain and entirely demolished with all the valuable machinery, tools and stock.

The Central R. R. Freight houses are entirely surrounded by water. They are filled with a large amount of flour and produce which is fortunately out of the reach of the water. The Canal line warehouses on the pier are cut open by the ice and all their contents carried away.

The Hudson river has opened thus early but twice, in 1828 and 1842. The Gas Company cut off in all the lower part of the city, for fear of damage.

On the Troy and Greenbush Railroad the ice is piled 15 feet high nearly the entire distance. We have no means at present to ascertain the condition of the Hudson railroad between here and Hudson.

Owing to the freshet, no through trains went out on the N. Y. & Erie Railroad.

The bridge at Narrowsburg is impassible. The flood on the Delaware brought down barns, goods and timbers against it, and it cannot be crossed to-day.

The Hudson River Railroad is in good running order as far as Tavoli, doing its usual business, and no material interruption is expected.

A portion of the Stockport bridge, near Hudson, is carried away, and over 200 feet of the Harlem Railroad track. The braces of the bridge at Dover Plains were washed away, so as to make it unsafe to pass, but the damage was slight. Trains were but little delayed, and the line, it is expected, will be clear in the morning.

Fire at Fort Sullivan.

PORTLAND, Feb. 9.

The officers' quarters at Fort Sullivan were burnt on Monday, and the day following the soldiers' quarters were partially burnt.

The Flood at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.

The only connection South is by way of Acquia Creek, by boat, which leaves regularly every morning. A night boat is to be put on in a few days. There is no connection with Alexandria except by this route, and by foot passengers or horsemen via Georgetown and the aqueduct.

Freshets on other Rivers.

OSWEGO, Feb. 9.

The ice in the river above began to move yesterday and rushed down with great force, and tore six schooners from their moorings, sweeping them into the lake. Much damage was done to the vessels in the harbor. Several canal boats are loose in the lake. Steam tugs have started in pursuit.

EASTON, Feb. 8.

The Delaware river has risen fifteen feet and the town is flooded to the depth of five feet in some parts. A house has been washed away at Lambertsville, and also a portion of Vancleever's foundry at Trenton. The bridges are all in a precarious condition, the ice in some places being piled up 20 feet.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 8.

There is a flood in the Susquehanna to-day. The ice is gorged four miles below this city and is piled up on the railroad some 10 or 15 feet. The trains are of course suspended, both ways. It is reported that a couple of bridges over the Juniata have been swept away, together with several pieces of the Cumberland Valley bridge. An enormous destruction of property is threatened.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 9.

The ice in the Schuylkill broke up last night. There is 11 feet of water on the Fairmount dam. Most of the yards are overflown, and large quantities of wood and lumber float off. Several canal boats were carried down stream and others left on the wharves by the subsiding waters.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.

SENATE.

Mr. Bright presented the credentials of Graham A. Fitch, setting forth that he has been elected Senator by the Legislature of Indiana, and moved that the oath of office be administered.

Mr. Trumbull said he had placed in his hands by a special messenger of that State, the protest of the State Senate of the legality of the election. Also a protest signed by 34 members of the House of Representatives of Indiana, to the same effect.

Mr. Bright said it was not necessary to read the protests, as he believed his colleague, according to precedent, is entitled to be sworn in.

The protests were read.

Mr. Trumbull then objected to the administration of the oath.

Mr. Douglas thought that it was better that Mr. Fitch should be sworn in, and investigation of the legality of the election should take place afterwards, as has been the custom heretofore.

Mr. Trumbull replied that the custom had been both ways, and cited cases where the oath had been refused until the matter had been discussed and decided. He thought that in this case no additional light could be shed on the matter, as all the facts were now known.

HOUSE.

The House passed, by 115 against 48, Mr. Chapman's bill for the wagon road to the Pacific.

The pending question was stated to be on the motion of Mr. Barbour to suspend the rules, to enable him to introduce a resolution from the Judiciary Committee, declaring that John C. Watson, U. S. District Judge for the District of Texas, be impeached of high crimes and misdemeanors.

Mr. Letcher said that there were serious charges, and demanded that the report of the committee on the case be read.

In the report specific charges are made against Judge Watson, of corrupt abomination in the determining of suits in his court, and of having acted with partiality and in disregard of all rules of law and rights of litigants.

New York News.

NEW YORK, Feb 9.

Several witnesses testified in the Burdell case this morning. Doctors Blaisdell and Smith both having business connection with Dr. Burdell, testified to their belief that the latter was at Saratoga, on October the 28th, the date of the alledged marriage.

Blaisdell also testified that certain papers found in Burdell's possession and purporting to have passed between Burdell and Mrs. Cunningham were forgeries.

Miss Sallenbick, a corset maker, testified that one evening late in October, Mrs. Cunningham and her eldest daughter came to her mother's house to await the arrival of a gentleman. The latter came, said all was right and then the three went off together.

The witness was here conducted into another room where were several persons, and requested to point out the man that called for Mrs. Cunningham, she unhesitatingly pointed to Eckel.

The theory of the prosecution is, that the night alluded to was the one on which Mrs. Cunningham claims to have been married to Dr. Burdell.

Mr. Eckel was then called up, but refused to answer any interrogatories, on the plea that he was a party implicated.

An exciting discussion ensued.

Wm. Burdell, of Columbus, Ohio, a brother of deceased, has given notice that he intends to apply for letters of administration on the Doctor's estate.

CHICAGO WHOLESALE MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE, Monday Evening, February 9, 1857.

On account of the freshet, the railroad trains are so disarranged that little business in the Grain market is transacted, and there is no change in the general market. The river is open, and the prospect is good for early navigation on Lake Michigan. This will make an active trade in the lumber country on the various rivers and bays on this Lake, before the Straits are opened. A good demand will then be supplied with the coarser grades of Flour and Grain for lumbermen, and for Provisions and Dry Goods. We hear of no sales of Flour except to city trade, which ranges as quoted below; fine is about $3@3.75. Rye Flour has further declined, and Buckwheat is unsaleable. Wheat is dull, and generally only able to store offered for spring, though 5,000 bush sold Saturday at 80c. We heard of 500 bbls city Mess Pork being offered at $19 ₽ bbl, cash, without sale though on time $18.50@19.00 would be given. Cut Meats are in demand at about 8¾ all round on an average. Barley is in very limited supply, with good inquiry, particularly for seed. A sale of a car load of common State was made at $1.52½. Good New York state and Canada are held at $1.75 for seed. A specimen of 120 bushels very choice two-rowed from Canada was shown us today, held at $1.75.

The prices of other articles are unchanged from Saturday. We resume as follows:

FLOUR.—Spring wheat extra $4.75@5; winter wheat $5, 50@6.50. City mills extra $6.75. Rye Flour $4@4.12. Buckwheat Flour $1.75@2, and dull sale.

WHEAT.—Spring ranges from 80@85c to store; club 75c to mill; red $1 and white $1.15 to store.

CORN.—Light receipts and little doing for present delivery; range 41@43c; for spring delivery 43@44c is the nominal range.

OATS.—No change in demand at 37c to city trade.

BARLEY.—Firm at $1.40@1.50 ₽ bu.

RYE.—Small sales at 70@72c delivered.

BEANS.—$2.25@2.50 ₽ bushel.

COFFEE.—Rio 11½@12½; Laguira 13½c; O. G. Java 16½@17½.

COAL.—By the single ton delivered Morris $8.00, LaSalle $7.50, Sheffield $6@6.50, Erie and Briar Hill $10.50. Lackawana and Lehigh $14.00.

HIGHWINES—active and firm at 26@28c ₽ gallon.

POULTRY.—Dressed Chickens, $2@2.25 ₽ dozen, Turkies 10@11c ₽ ℔. Geese 37@50c each.

DRESSED HOGS—Firm at $7.50@7.75.

PROVISIONS.—Mess Pork $19@$20. Prime $17.

LARD.—11½@12c.

BUTTER.—Firkin 14@18c; roll 20@23c.

EGGS.—19@20c ₽ doz by the bbl.

SEEDS.—Timothy in demand at $2.75@2.62; Clover $6.25@6.62.

HIDES.—Green 7½@8½c; Dry flint 17@18c.

POTATOES.—... ₽ bushel. Sale of 200 bushels 70c ₽ bush.

Chicago Live Stock Market.

MONDAY, Feb. 9th.

HORSES.—The number in market is gradually increasing, and sales are improving. Butler & Farren received 50 head from Ohio last week, and ... [illegible] Robbins & Kelley sold 10 head in the week and have 35 head left over, 20 head having reached them to-day from Ohio. At Sutherland & Gould's Phoenix Stables were 116 head Saturday night. Some of them left and 14 more were brought in there yesterday by Marsh & Earnst from Ohio, among which is a stallion, a pair of gray mares and a span of ... [illegible] ... Doty's has 50 head to-day on hand ... [illegible] At the New York House a number also arrived from Ohio, and at the Franklin street stables some good horses are on sale.

CATTLE.—The freshet and stoppage of trains made holders of cattle and other stock put up prices, supposing city butchers would be driven to terms; but there were no sales made at Myrick's yesterday in consequence. A drove of 80 head was there, held at $4.50, gross, and some smaller lots of inferior at $4@4.25, and we quote prices firm at $4@4.50.

SHEEP.—The same remarks apply to the sheep market; 300 at Myrick's were held at $5 gross; this price was offered for 100 head picked from the 300, but refused.

HOGS.—Only a car load sold at Myrick's yesterday; they brought $6, gross; 600 head were shipped east from there, leaving none over.

☞ We have no receipts by railroad since Friday, the following for that day were left out of our last issue by accident:

Stave Machine for Sale.

THE SUBSCRIBER OFFERS FOR SALE his Stave Machine, together with everything necessary for carrying on the business of manufacturing Staves and Heading for Flour Bbls. The property is as follows:

15 HORSE POWER STEAM ENGINE,
One Stave and One Heading Cutter,
One Yoke Young Oxen,
One Lumber Wagon and Log-rig.
Also, Chains and Tools.

The engine was purchased new from Granger & Bro. one year ago last fall. It is in good order; has a new set of Fire Grates that have never been in use, and is set up by a rough board shanty.

There are sufficient steam boxes for manufacturing for 9,000 and 10,000 staves per diem. It is located on Kalamazoo River, about seven miles from the mouth, and has good facilities for shipping.

The timber about it is principally oak, of which there will be an abundant supply for some time to come. The above property, together with some logs and bolts, ready on the ground, will be sold cheap for cash or approved security. It is a rare chance for any one wishing to engage in the business. DAILY TRIBUNE.

No. 53 CLARK STREET.

CITY OF CHICAGO.

Saturday Morning .... Feb. 10, 1857.

Nicaragua—Fillibusters—President Pierce.

It is known to our readers, that certain supposed Fillibusters, about to sail in the Tennessee, were arrested and are now having their trial in New York. The case has become suddenly interesting because of a letter implicating President PIERCE. As yet, it has not been offered, or admitted in evidence; but the counsel for the Fillibusters charge, that the Executive of the Nation owns one-twelfth of the thirty millions of acres contained in the Mosquito grant. How this may turn out, we cannot say: but this is certain, that "the letter" should be produced. Let us have it!

New York Herald Guessing.

The New York Herald bids politicians read its speculations, and we suppose they will. This journal says, that Mr. BUCHANAN has determined upon the persons who shall constitute his Cabinet, though not upon the positions they shall occupy. They are:—From the South, COBB of Georgia, FLOYD of Virginia, certain; PICKENS of South Carolina, or BROWN of Tennessee, contingent. From the North and West, BRIGHT of Indiana; CLIFFORD of Maine, and Judge BLACK of Pennsylvania, who is hard pressed for Secretary of State. The only drawback to this latter gentleman is J. GLENCEY JONES of the Old Keystone, who has a number of warm and zealous friends. The chances are that Judge BLACK will be chosen.

"Emancipation is the Leading Measure of Western Policy."

This sounds well, and is well. It is strong in thought and feeling, noble in expression and grand in promise. Nor, suppose it comes, reader, from a Northern pen—it is Southern, and has pluck in it which will shame the doughfaces and serviles of the Free States. We copy it from the Missouri Democrat.

"FREE WHITE LABOR." This is the battle cry, and when was there ever a better one. "Free White Labor." It is that which has made the free West, and that alone can save Missouri, and Kentucky, Virginia and Maryland. The Missouri Democrat knows this and heroically says, come from what quarter it may, we will meet the opposition which denies, "that the future of our State depends upon "free white labor."

Nor will it stand alone, although no position so glorious could be occupied. The Central Advocate, (the Methodist organ of Missouri) comes to its aid. It is for Emancipation, and says:

Let us have no dodging, no side issues wrung in. The scheme by which this is to be effected, in all its details, can, by the wisdom of our statesmen and philanthropists, be wrought out in due time; and the means necessary to the accomplishment of so grand and glorious a consummation—a consummation over which christian men and angels would shout—can be secured.

We declare that here every man is without excuse. If any decline to favor emancipation, we suppose it must be from one of two considerations: either they have not the courage to declare their wishes, lest they incur the displeasure of some, or they do not consider slavery an evil but a blessing, and therefore do not desire its extinction.

Will the religious press of the State speak out upon the subject? We wait with anxiety to see; not that we fear the consequences for ourselves if they should not come to the rescue, for we unhesitatingly assert that whenever we think we may forward the cause of emancipation by so doing, we shall speak, regardless of what others may do or fail to do; but we are confident that, should the religious press and the churches of Missouri give their decided influence for emancipation, it will go very far toward the accomplishment of this most desirable object.

It needs only courage, a kind but resolute purpose in good and noble men, in Missouri, Virginia, Maryland, North Carolina and Tennessee, to put forward the glorious cause of the white man with a practical success and a sure benefit to all classes. It needs only a true and courageous action to ensure the success of gradual emancipation in all these States. Missouri will lead, and be great in deeds as well great in acts, great in wealth, mind and character. Let the friends of the white man labor on, then, and all will be well.

Sir E. Bulwer Lytton.

We give parts of the new Lord Rector's discourse to the students of Glasgow University, and suppose the offering will be acceptable to most of our readers. The London Times does not think highly of the production. It simply holds, that the new Lord Rector can say nothing in as pleasant a way, and with as rhetorical a swell, as anybody it knows. Nevertheless it will be read, even where the Times is not read.

There is some capacity in saying nothing with skill; some art required in rising up with a regular rhetorical swell; some power required in the flash of similitudes and the twirl of metaphors. The new Lord Rector has this power accorded to him. But that we may do the Times no injustice, let us copy, in part, what it says of his address:

The fact is, that orations of this kind must naturally be empty and rhetorical. The speaker labors under the same disadvantages as the preacher or the moral essayist. Nothing has happened since last Sunday or last year, and human nature is the same as in the days of the Patriarchs. Therefore the basis of the sermon, essay or lecture be the same, with only a difference of treatment. The most florid colorist is consequently the most successful artist.

This is its philosophy; its complaint is, that the new Lord Rector said nothing, proposed nothing, at all calculated to advance university Reform, or remove deficiences in the Colleges. "Oxford and Cambridge are compared to Augean Stables. The seats of learning are full of short-comings, yet not a word is said of these things—not a wrong pointed out nor a remedy suggested." Hence resumes the London Times:

It is difficult to judge the merits of a man without knowing the circumstances in which he is placed. If Sir E. Lytton was told, as he may have been, to avoid every subject on which a difference of opinion might arise, he perhaps did as well as he could in confining himself to common-place moral and philosophical reflections, dressed up in fine language. But a Lord Rector, if we are to judge by his name, is one who is honored, and one who rules. Surely, then, he might take advantage of his position to give some practical advice to the University in the only oration which he may deliver during his brief term of office. There are, we presume, deficiencies in Scotch Universities as well as elsewhere, and yet, while Oxford and Cambridge are politely compared to Augean stables an educated gentleman will talk for hours at Glasgow without uttering a word except of undiscriminating and exaggerated praise.

But, reader, peruse the New Lord Rector's address, and judge for yourself of its merits. It will repay perusal.

A New Line of Screw Propellers between Glasgow and Montreal.

In an article in the Glasgow (Scotland) Daily Bulletin, of Jan. 16th, we find the attention of rich "auld Scotia" is turned towards us of the Far West, since the opening of the Canada Grand Trunk Railway. We give an extract from the article, which, though it shows a want of geographical knowledge of things hereabouts, gives an interesting fact at the close to grain and provision shippers via Montreal to Europe. Speaking of the traffic of Canada with the West, it says:

"Proceeding upwards beyond Montreal, by the waters of the St. Lawrence and the lakes, we find ourselves landed at Chicago, the capital of the State of Illinois. This city was a small town in 1840, with a population of 4,470; in 1855 it had increased to 83,500; at present the people will number 100,000. These figures at once point to Chicago as a most important commercial centre. Chicago is the great commercial, collecting, and distributing nucleus of the vast region of the Far West of America—of the fertile agricultural States of Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Missouri and Minnesota. 'Chicago (it has been said) is now the greatest primary grain port in the world.' Its total receipts of flour and grain in 1855 came up to 20,487,958 bushels. The shipments from its port in the same year were 16,633,813 bushels. And when it is borne in mind that the natural outlet for these immense stores of grain of the Far West is via Montreal and the St. Lawrence, it must be a matter of very great importance to the mercantile and manufacturing interests of Glasgow to learn, as they will, from our advertising columns to-day, that the enterprising firm of Messrs. Handyside & Henderson, of this city, are to lay on a line of auxiliary screw steamers between this port and Montreal, in April."

ONTONAGON—COPPER SHIPMENTS.—The Lake Superior Miner, of January 17th, a weekly most ably edited by Geo. D. Emerson, gives a flattering account of improvements in that town (the outlet of a heavy copper mining district) and of its prospects. A tabular statement of the copper shipments for the past season from that port shows the value to be one million dollars, or more than half the copper of the entire mineral range. The shipments are from twenty copper mines, in the aggregate over five and a half million pounds, that from the Minnesota mine being 3,715,796 pounds. Docks, piers, warehouses, and other improvements are in active progress. Ontonagon is much the largest town of the Lake Superior

W. A. Richardson.

It is a pity that the State Register will continue to drag this "distinguished gentleman" before the public, and not only bedaub him with praise, but indulge in the coarsest censure against his successful opponent, Gov. BISSELL. We say it is a pity, because the public does not desire, nor do the Republicans wish to revive, or keep alive, the harsher feelings which a heated conflict is so sure to inflame. But the Register persists in doing this, and, therefore, must be met.

Let us say, then, in the first place, that Mr. RICHARDSON came out of the late canvass, not merely defeated, but injured seriously in reputation, and that, too, through his own action. This sensible Democrats know and feel. The truth is, no public man can appear before the people and be reckless in conduct, or in the assertion of crude theories, or wrong views or offensive opinions, without damaging himself. Mr. RICHARDSON was thus reckless. Party, we admit, is powerful; it may hide the offences of its leaders for a time; it may palliate these offences when they become known; but it cannot prevent honest men, on its own side, from condemning them, and those who utter them. Nay more, it cannot, under these circumstances, "hold them to the nominations," even amid a fierce strife. We have proof enough of this fact, in the effect produced by Col. RICHARDSON, at Freeport, where he not only lost the votes of fast abiding democrats by taking ultra proslavery ground, but clenched their opposition to him by his personal recklessness of conduct.

It is a mistake, if the Register supposes, that the People, let them belong to what side they may, will sustain whoever is put up by party. They look more closely to character than leaders suppose. They scrutinize conduct more justly than caucus juntas imagine. Very true, they are not as independent and as true as they should be—none of us are; neither the People nor the Press; but the tendencies are all in the right direction, and though they and the Press may yield when they should not, though both may sustain candidates unfit for office, either because of their want of character or of right principles, or of honesty and earnestness in defending such principles, yet they are warmer in defence of such action, and commend it heartily whenever or by whomever made. The Register, therefore, is making a futile effort in seeking to bolster up Col. RICHARDSON before the people of Illinois. They know him. They see him, to a great extent, even on his own side, as he is. And they know, that he has not been true to himself—that he has forsaken the higher principles which his own better nature once cherished—that he has forced his friends to say and do what as honest men they would not have said and done; and these friends will not permit the Register, or leaders of a higher mould, so to tax their credulity or common sense, or crush out their self-respect and honesty, in any future contest. It is asking too much, and our Springfield neighbors will not press the matter, if they would maintain the influence they desire to wield with well disposed and independent minds, even on their own side.

Let us say, in the second place, that the canvass, so far as the Republicans were concerned was conducted, on the whole, with fairness, and with far less of party acrimony and bitterness than has marked the conduct of any preceeding presidential conflict which we remember. We say on the whole—for of course there were journals and speakers who were bitter, partizan, narrow, and unjust—but with these exceptions, our friends sought to meet the issue made, to stick to it, and, by argument, and proper appeal, to reach the people. No violent assaults were made upon Mr. BUCHANAN. His ability and experience were conceded—his fitness for office in these regards admitted. His timidity, his want of boldness, the readiness with which he yielded to party, the lack of character made manifest by his life-long conduct, were considered and properly urged. But no low abuse, no violence, none of that slang which would make a candidate, on one side, a devil, and on the other, a God, was indulged in, generally, by the Republican press, or tolerated by the Republican masses in their conventions. So, too, with regard to Col. RICHARDSON. In this State, never was there a fairer opportunity for violent personal assault than his nomination offered! Never did a candidate invite more urgently such an assault by his own imprudent and unwise conduct! Yet, with rare exceptions, what was personal was dropped, and the Republican press and speakers, answering the demand of the Republican masses, addressed the judgements and consciences and interests of the freemen of the State, and stood out well on this high and manly ground, throughout the whole canvass. We do not refer to this action boastingly—we refer to it in self-defence—and to induce our friends, as well as our foes, hereafter, to make it still more decided in our State and National canvasses.

The Register, of course, charges Col. BISSELL with falsehood and trickery, and speaks of his degradation and shame. It will have its way, nor shall we seek to arrest it in its course. But let us assure it, that, so far as we know, there is not a man on our side, and, we doubt, if there be many on its own, who does not believe Gov. BISSELL to be, as honest and as true a man as we have in the State or the Country. Courteous, kind and brave, modest as well as heroic, it is not in his nature to hold counsel with deceit, or to practise it, to utter falsehood, or tolerate it when spoken by others. Patriotic and just, devoted to Illinois and the Republic, it is his purpose to do, or to help have done, whatever may advance the interest or elevate the character of the State. And yet this man, thus single in purpose and lofty in mould, is denounced by the Register, as a leprous scoundrel and a liar! We pity its malignity. Every generous and just citizen will pity or condemn it,—for it smacks of a hate fit only for the bosom of a devil.

China.

John Quincy Adams, years ago, announced that China must be forced into the commercial circle of the world by breaking up her exclusive home rule. Internal divisions and an external pressure, seem to be fast hastening on this event, however peace-men may growl over the means used to bring it about, or moralists denounce them.

Speculation is somewhat at fault, because we know so little of the actual condition of the interior of China, but that little confirms the general opinion, that the present dynasty is not popular, and cannot long sustain itself. Let this, however, be as it may, the demands of civilization and of commerce have to be met, and this civilization and that commerce need the East, and its population—and will have them. The settlement of California and Oregon—the war with Russia—the war with Persia—the rebellion in China, and the bombardment of Canton,—all have the same look, and point to the same result; and, we may be assured, there is some cause, or causes, underlying these events, which, in the end, will open a new field for the energy and enterprise of Europe and of the United States, in the hitherto exclusive Eastern nations.

China is known to every one by her tea. This fragrant herb is used the world over, and whatever the demand for it, she will be able to supply it. The following table will show the amount consumed, annually, by the different nations:

POUNDS OF TEA CONSUMED.
Great Britain and Ireland	[illegible]
British America and West Indies	[illegible]
Australia, Cape of Good Hope, &c.	[illegible]
British India, &c.	[illegible]

Total, all countries	41,000,000

The United States leads; Russia comes next—then Great Britain, &c. But the trade of the Republic is not confined to tea. We copy from the Boston Journal a letter showing the value of imports from China:

	1853.	1854.	1855.	1856.

As a market for our products, China holds but a low rank. Cotton goods is the principal staple which we send there. Then comes ginseng, which is highly prized by the Chinese as a medicine. We also export a small quantity of flour, provisions, manufactures of iron, and minor articles. The following table shows the value of the exports from this country to China during the last four years:

Dom. Productions	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Specie	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Total Exports	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

What the effect of the war, or rather, of the bombardment of Canton, will be, it may be difficult to say. Many suppose it will break up trade wholly. So it was said when the Revo- [illegible] from that, and the supply of tea has been abundant as ever. But those best conversant with China aver, that the business of Canton for this season is broken up, and not only that the supply of tea, but that trade generally will suffer. If so, it will only be temporary. China cannot hold out against these causes, stronger than armies, which are so fast opening the nations to each other, and preparing the way for a universal intercourse among the peoples of the earth.

Bulwer's Installation Speech.

In January, Sir E. Bulwer Lytton was installed as Lord Rector of Glasgow (Scotland) University, to which office, considered one of the highest degree of honor, he was appointed over his opponent, Lord Stanley, son of the Earl of Derby. In the opening sentences of his address, Bulwer accepted the honor as conferred upon him not as a politician, but as a man of letters. We extract passages of singular force and beauty.

TO THE YOUTH OF SCOTLAND.

I am intimidated by a sense of the reverence which is due to the young.

Can I glance towards these ingenuous and ardent listeners, whom I am called upon by office to exhort or advise upon the future, and not feel with sincere emotion that the future is their lives, and that in their lives Providence may select the agents to influence a future for unborn generations? How cautious should he be who would animate the exertions of youth, not to discourage the audacities of genius, nor, on the other hand, to shrink from enforcing the sober doctrine, that to all genius labor is essential; that the genius that would realise the palace of Aladdin must still be the genius of the lamp. How anxious he must feel to avoid the cold pedantry of conventional admonition, and yet to give a candid utterance to the affection which prompts advice. Above all, students of Glasgow, he who addresses you should have a spirit so warmed by sympathy with the generous aspirations of youth, so imbued with the remembrance of what your fathers have been before you, that his mind may escape from every sentiment unworthy the ears of that young chivalry which Scotland rears and sends forth to the battle of human life, with her lion at their hearts, and her white cross of St. Andrew on their shields. [Great applause.]

SCOTLAND AND FRANCE.

Already, indeed, during the latter half of the last century, Scotland had produced a school of philosophers who prepared the reason of her sons to resist the plausible but perilous materialism of which Diderot and the writers of the French Encyclopedie sought to quibble away the soul from man, and the Maker from the universe. Already, for more than thirty years a professor in this university, Thomas Reid, had expanded into an original system the suggestive lessons of Hutcheson, the founder of Scotch metaphysics. Reid died in 1796, but he left behind him a brilliant pupil, Dugald Stewart, peculiarly adapted by the graces of acquirement and a pensive elegance of style, to render popular the doctrines of his teacher, and to influence a wide range of minds that, whether in literature or action, have powerfully affected the character of their age and country. [Cheers.]

SCOTCH METAPHYSICIANS.

I am not here to pronounce an unqualified eulogium upon that school of Scotch metaphysics; indeed, of late years I have had so little leisure to re-examine those analytical inquiries into the origin and formation of idea which delighted me in early youth, that I could not venture to be a critic on metaphysics before an audience of Scotch collegians. But he would wholly fail to appreciate the immense benefits which Hutcheson, Reid, and Stewart rendered to sound philosophy, and through philosophy to the direction of popular thought and action, who should overlook the influence which those Scottish speculative reasoners have exercised over the great schools of Germany—over all succeeding schools, moral or metaphysical, that have served to paralyze and disperse the ribald builders of the atheistical Babel, who startled the last century, and left behind them the fragments of their impious labors, a futile monument of the confusion of their tongues, and the forlorn memento of a vanished deluge.

SCOTCH PRACTICAL GENIUS.

Not, however, with this achievement, (Adam Smith's Wealth of Nations,) did Scotland halt in her "march of light"—not to that memory do you stint your obligation in your illustrious Academy of Glasgow. (Cheers.) In your streets, while Joseph Black was deducing his voluminous problems from chemical science—while Adam Smith was tracing the source of all national wealth—a young man, the listener and friend to both, was pondering upon the application of chemical science to the wealth of nations, the very vapor in the lamp of philosophy became the most material agent in the subjugation of time and space to the power of men, and the prophecy of Roger Bacon was realized in the inventive genius of James Watt. (Immense cheering.)

WALTER SCOTT.

The first great literature produced by this century, which spread over the civilized nations, thrusting back into dusty shelves the verse without soul and the prose without muscle, which had formed the circulating library of Europe—the first great literature that strode forth to civilize and to conquer, restoring the ancestral past to its due place in human reverence, recalling from exile truth and nature, binding man to man in the genial chain of character and humor, refreshing this work-day world with a joyous holiday of romance—the first great literature which poured its own young blood into the century, and, rushing over Europe, found a home on every hearth, rose in these islands, and, paramount in that literature, for an influence not less beneficial than supreme, towers your lofty countryman, Walter Scott. (Great applause.)

Measure not Scott's greatness by his effects only on the imagination. [Hear.] By the law of all mental vibration, opinion is moved by the sounds that first agitate feeling. What way Scott prepared throughout Europe for the introduction of our language, and with our language our reasoners as well as our poets! Before this day, how much the language of France had overweighted the balance of intellectual power in Europe! Scott threw into the opposing scale the language of the Anglo-Saxon, and the intellect of these kingdoms became henceforth, not the casual guest, but one of the ruling monarchs of the continent. [Cheers.] Thus Scotland gathered together the broken and stormy rays of intelligence that had before rather terrified than cheered the dawn of the 19th century, and forming them first through science into pure and tranquil light, then dispersing them through literature to beautify the world with all the pomp and variety of color.

ECCLESIASTICAL ELOQUENCE—CHALMERS' STUDENTS.

I might say, in passing, that the general character of ecclesiastical eloquence in Scotland, in that peculiarity of subtil disquisition which has been alleged against it as a fault, has had had an effect akin to philosophy in the demand it makes on the reason and reflective power of the listener. But I hurry on to one illustrious instance of the sympathy established here between the philosopher and the preacher. I remind you of your own great Chalmers. [Cheers.] In this town he delivered his famous astronomical discourses, and from the printing press of Glasgow issued those essays in which he has brought to bear upon subjects purely social or philosophical, an understanding so masculine, couched in a style so gravely sweet. Formed by such teachers, guided by such auspices, your fathers went forth upon the world. Not, indeed, all to be the votaries of literature and science, not all to win distinction for their individual selves; the large majority were contented with the simple paths of practical life. But that large majority, still adding to the aggregate character of your country, by the attributes of strong sense, patient courage, tranquil honesty, that moral dignity which commands respect, and thus spreading on every soil where they found home the healthful influence of the native soil. (Cheers.) Students, these are the men you are to succeed, and from the homes and hearths of these men you come here to discipline your energies and advance the name that you inherit. And will not that thought animate you more than any dry exhortation to industry or labor? Why, who among you would begrudge any toil that might make him still more the joy and pride of a Scottish home, or give to Scotland another of those names which preserve her nationality more distinct and sovereign than if the Stuart still reigned in Holyrood, and the thistle were not blended with the rose!

DEFINITE PURPOSE—GENIUS DEFINED.

Let me impress upon you the value of definite purpose. Having once chosen that calling which then becomes your main object in life, cling to it firmly—bring to bear on it all your energies, all the information you are elsewhere variously collecting. All men are not born with genius, but every man can acquire purpose, and purpose is the backbone and marrow of genius—nay, I can scarcely distinguish the one from the other. For what is genius? Is it not an impassioned predilection for some definite art or study, to which the mind converges all its energies, each thought or image that is suggested by nature or learning, solitude or converse, being habitually and involuntarily added to those ideas which are ever returning to the same central point, so that the mind is not less busily applying when it seems to be the most released from application? That is genius, and that is purpose—the one makes the great artist or poet, the other the great man of action. And with purpose comes the grand secret of all worldly success, which some men call will, but which I would rather call earnestness. If I were asked, from my experience of life, to say what attribute most impressed the minds of others, or most commanded fortune, I should say "earnestness."

EARNESTNESS.

Take, for instance, the House of Commons as the highest type of a popular assembly. What is the secret of success there? You all remember that Demosthenes placed the threefold art of the orator in delivery. I think the word he used was acting or stage-play. But though delivery, no doubt, is the appropriate excellence of the mere orator, the threefold gift of the parliamentary speaker is earnestness. Have but fair sense and competent knowledge of your subject, and then be thoroughly in earnest to impress your own honest conviction upon others, and no matter what your delivery, though your gestures shocked every rule of Quintilian, you would command the ear and influence the decision of the most accomplished, the most fastidious, and, take it altogether, the noblest assembly of freemen in the world: while some man, in whose delivery no fault could be detected, except the one defect of that earnest conviction, which Roscius himself could not teach if the man has not got it, would be indeed admired as a firework but would never guide like a star. As it is in the House of Commons, which is but the representation of the national mind, so it is with all life through- [illegible] for himself, and earnestness and truth go together.

SAYING "YES" AND "NO."

Never affect to be other than you are—either richer or wiser. Never be ashamed to say, "I do not know." Men will then believe you when you say, "I do know." Never be ashamed to say, whether as applied to time or money, "I cannot afford it"—"I cannot afford to waste an hour in the idleness to which you invite me—I cannot afford the guinea you ask me to throw away." Once establish yourself and your mode of life as what they really are, and your foot is on solid ground, whether for the gradual step onward or for the sudden spring over a precipice. [Cheers.] From these maxims let me deduce another—learn to say "No" with decision; "Yes" with caution—"No" with decision whenever it resists a temptation; "Yes" with caution whenever it implies a promise. A promise once given is a bond inviolable. [Cheers.] A man is already of consequence in the world when it is known that we can implicitly rely upon him.

CONCLUSION.

But let us rejoice that we are now advancing on the future hand in hand, every English victory Scottish triumph, and every Scottish glory an English boast. [Cheers.] To you, to the men of your generation, is consigned the latter half of that century which your fathers enriched with such stores and adorned with such trophies. Before your energy spreads a dominion never compassed by the eagle of the Cæsars, extending from the first well-spring of civilization, under Indian palm trees, to the last vent of its redundant flow, amid Australian pastures. To your aid science contributes inventions which have seemed to your progenitors fables as wild as the wings of Dædalus, or the talisman of Abaris. To you the earth is daily revealing new mines of gold, and the heavens are vouchsafing new stars of intellectual light.

Legislation for you has solved many of the problems that perplexed your fathers, and questions which at the dawn of this century threatened to rend society, are now peacefully settled. Compared with those who have gone before you, you have little to reform—you have infinitely more to guard. Such is the account which the trustees for half the century have rendered to those who are born to enjoy the inheritance of the half that follows. Filled with a sense of that magnificent bequest, and of the sublime responsibility that it involves, go forth, students of Glasgow, to be in your turn the administrators of time, for the approval of Providence and for the benefit of man.

San Francisco Vigilance Committee—A Member Arrested in New York.

The reports of the New York papers, as to events occurring there, are often so exaggerated, that we know not how to credit them. Generally, there is some basis of truth in them—but the result is so different from the announcement, that we should hardly be able to recognize the one after recording the other.

According to the New York Herald of Friday, one of the Vigilance Committee of San Francisco, Mr. MYERS TRUETT, was on a visit to the East. WILLIAM MULLIGAN, CHARLES P. DUANE, and REUBEN MALLORY, (denounced as scamps in California) were sent off—"exiled" by this committee, and, learning this fact, determined to arrest him. TRUETT, apprised of this fact, sought to conceal himself, by disguises &c. and thus escape to California. The Herald reports:

When the sheriff had departed, the Captain of the Illinois said he was about to sail, and cried out for "all who had not tickets to go ashore." The sheriff's deputies, not having any written orders to remain on guard, had to obey the Captain, and were landed on the dock. The ship did not get under weigh, however, until the sheriff returned with his extended orders, and boarded the Illinois the second time. The sheriff demanded permission to search the money vault room and lower part of the vessel, which was denied, and then he went to break open the door of the linen room, in which he at first suspected that Truett lay concealed.

At this stage of the proceedings an Irish lady from San Francisco, who was about returning home, recognized, and calling him, informed him "that the man had been removed from that room while the officers were on shore and her boy could point out the room in which he was placed. On this the boy pointed out where Truett then lay hid in a stateroom. The sheriff, with his posse, forced open the door of the room indicated, and found Mr. Truett huddled up under a berth in great fear, and trembling. He was immediately brought forth and recognized, although he had on a red pair of false whiskers, a slouch hat and coarse dress.

When brought on deck a large crowd assembled round him, and he looked very pale, evidently through fear of rough handling. In this strait he appealed for protection from the crowd, and was replied to to the effect: "You need have no dread of being hung by a mob here, but you must answer to the laws for your acts."

Mr. Truett was then landed about 4 o'clock P. M., and marched up Warren street Broadway, and thence to the sheriff's office in custody. He was afterwards lodged in Eldridge street jail, where he remained at a late hour last night in default of bail.

What there is in this affair, remains to be seen; if anything of moment, we shall hear of it ere long.

Springfield as Seen by a Lady.

[For the Tribune.]

SPRINGFIELD, Feb. 5.

We entered Springfield this evening by gas light. Rather a sloppy view. On our way from the cars to the hotel, we met carriages from all directions, wending their way through the mud, leaving precious freight, that is, ladies in full dress on their way to a large private party. We soon followed the crowd, and arrived there just in time for supper, which was a splendid one. The heat in the supper-room was truly oppressive. Tall pyramids of cake became faint, and everybody polite, and in attempting to bow politely to their lovely worshippers, lost their ballance and fell, scattering their candied sweets upon the carpet, to the detriment of costly dresses in their immediate neighborhood. We soon had macaroni heels to our slippers, which raised us an inch or two, and caused us to walk on our tip toes as we left the room.

That was a fashionable jam, and as such, enjoyed by all who have a fancy for parties of that kind. It was no failure, at all events, and there was no dulness, or stiffness there.

February 6.—Springfield looks quite natural in its old garb of mud. Ladies go tripling along the moist side-walks, quite regardless of their trailing skirts, and smile as pleasantly as if stepping upon flowers.

The city is still crowded with strangers; some on business, some for pleasure, and it is to be hoped they will find whatever they come for, after wading through all this mud and water. But even as I write, the wind has risen, and the streets may be newly paved by Jack Frost ere many hours have passed.

The legislators are all hard at work; they have much to do, and but little time to do it in, so they are holding night sessions, and working for dear life. They will earn their two dollars a day this time, or at least try to do so, and yet we will often have great complaints about "those lazy members."

Population of Missouri.

The St. Louis Democrat published a statement of the census of Missouri, just completed. Three counties, (Clark, Clay and DeKalb) are not returned, but setting these down at the figures returned in 1851, the result is:

Total population in 1856	926,044
Total population in 1851	681,704
Increase	244,340

There are only 2,684 free negroes in the State, the greater portion of whom are in St. Louis county. There are 135,472 boys under ten years of age, and 130,025 girls. There are 406,251 free white males, and 380,448 females. There are 383,498 adults and children at school.

The principal cities and towns in the State contain the following number of inhabitants: St. Louis, 125,201; St. Joseph, 3,840; Lexington, 3,309; Columbia, 1,542; Cape Girardeau, 2,100; Jefferson City, 1,924; Booneville, 2,535; Washington, 1,035; Herman, 1,055; Glasgow, 967; Canton, 1,153; La Grange, 1,154; Louisiana, 2,131; Weston, 2,271; Platte, 625; Parkville, 619; St. Charles, 3,132; and Ste. Genevieve, 1,201.

There are 214 insane males in the State, and 184 females, of which number 22 are negroes—total insane 398.

There are 281 blind persons in the State, of which number 151 are males and 130 females, and 34 of them are negroes.

There are 323 deaf and dumb persons in the State—males 174, females 149, and 21 of them negroes, and 112 of them have been taught to read and write.

SLAVE EXEMPTION IN MISSISSIPPI.—The Senate of Mississippi, on the 9th ult, after a long discussion adopted, by a vote of 20 to 5, the following amendment offered by Mr. Ellet to the Court bill, exempting a portion of slave property from sale under execution. Exempting, "one slave, to be selected by the debtor, if he have more than one; and should such debtor select to retain a female slave, then all the children of such, under the age of twenty years, shall likewise be exempted."

This is similar to acts passed in other Southern States for the protection and encouragement of Slavery. As a specimen of class legislation, it will not prove very palatable to the non-slave holding population of the South.

Valentines for 1857. AS THE VALENTINE SEASON IS NOW fast approaching on Cupid's wings, driven by Old Time, we would solicitous as never having waited for any man, we would urge upon our customers the necessity of ordering their Stock early. Having made special importations from the Paris and London markets, for our trade this season, we feel confident we present the finest Stock ever offered to the trade west of New York, and at prices much less than we have ever offered them before, ranging from 5 cents to $15. A fine stock of Valentines will give your store the thrifty character of the times; they are comic and pleasing to attract attention to your windows, and make your place of business known to a peculiar class of customers who are attracted chiefly by a gaudy display. We still continue to put up our popular $5, $10, $15, $20 and $25 lots of assorted Valentines, varying from 5 cts to $2. Our terms are fifty per cent. discount for cash. Those wishing lots of $5, $10, &c., by mailing us a letter enclosing the requisite amount, will receive immediate attention. The packages being light can be sent either by mail or express. Soliciting your orders, we are, yours, &c., KERN & LEE, No. 148 Lake street, Chicago, Ill.

Special Notices.

Winter Extension. In compliance with many urgent solicitations CALVIN M. FITCH, author of New York, author of the Invalid's Guide and Consumptive's Manual, has consented, for the convenience of his Western patients to remain in CHICAGO during the present Winter. Invalids of the West, especially those laboring under Bronchitis, or sealed disease of the Throat, Lungs or Heart, Dyspepsia, or Female Diseases, may now avail themselves of Dr. Fitch's system of treatment without the expense, fatigue or delay of a visit to New York. DR. C. M. FITCH desires that the public may not confound him with his former associate, Dr. S. S. Fitch, as no business connection has existed between them, [illegible] Daily office hours from 10 to 4, excepting on the Sabbath and the afternoon of Saturday, and forenoon of Monday of each week, during which time but the most urgent cases can be attended to. Consultation, personally or by mail, Free. Communications may be addressed, CALVIN M. FITCH, M.D., Sherman House, Chicago, Illinois.

CRISTADORO'S HAIR DYE.—This great chemical discovery has taken precedence over every other preparation for changing the color of the Hair. The public have realized by experience the important fact, that while it imparts the most perfect and natural black or brown, it does not impair the softness and elasticity, or arrest the growth of the hair. Free from all caustic ingredients, it neither stains the skin or the head, dries up the circulation through the fibres, nor emits any unpleasant odor. The application is simple, and the change is effected in a few minutes, [illegible] Hence its popularity [illegible] Price, $1, $1.50 and $3 per box. It is supplied, and for sale, wholesale and retail, at manufacturers' prices. J. H. REED & CO., 144 & 146 Lake street.

IMPORTANT TO THE DEAF AND DEAF AND DUMB.—Dr. M'LEOD, of Scotland, has arrived in Chicago, Ill., and may be consulted, at 199 Dearborn street, a few doors south of the Post Office. [illegible] and all Discharges from the Ear, Medicine Remedies, entirely removed.

CATARRH!—WHAT IS IT?—Has it ever been cured?—Do physicians understand it?—It has been clearly and pathologically defined—it the Faculty understands it, then, a Remedy effective, positive and radical, should long since have been devised for its removal. But the reverse of this, is unhappily the fact. It has never received a common sense definition—has never been clothed in the vestment of true pathology. The Medical Liberal then, have failed to cure it. Have quack nostrums, in the form of "Snuffs," been more successful? The fingers of such imposition can best answer. They never cure. Can it be cured? Yes. Goodale's Erbine, in liquid form, and simply to be inhaled into the nostrils, will positively and radically cure Catarrh! Innumerable tests and trials have convinced the truth of this statement, beyond captious doubt or successful controversy. The Remedy may be obtained at Chicago, of FENTON, FISHER & CO., Druggists, Sole Agents, 94 Lake street, corner of Dearborn, with directions for using.

BRYANT & STRATTON'S MERCANTILE COLLEGE.—This is one of the best institutions in the country, and the very best place for young men to spend their winter evenings. P. R. Spencer's Writing Classes are now in progress. Students can enter at any time, day or evening. Ladies' Class from 2 to 4 P.M. See advertisement in another column. Rooms, 48 Clark street, opposite George Smith's Bank.

BALM OF ZANTHORRA.—A Cure for Diarrhea, Dysentery, and all Summer complaints. J. H. REED & CO., 144 and 146 Lake street, Sole Agents for Chicago.

MESSENGER'S LONDON CORDIAL GIN.—A perfectly pure Tonic and Invigorating Cordial. This article is manufactured in London, under the rigorous supervision of the Excise Police, in accordance with the strict Excise Laws of Great Britain (which punish with severe penalties any attempt at the adulteration of any article designed for food or drink), from the finest of barley, impregnated with the Italian Juniper, and other favorite tonics [illegible] and great care should be taken that the corresponding seals are on each bottle. CAUTION.—In purchasing, be sure that it is absolutely "Messenger's," as unprincipled parties are engaged in palming off imitations of similar appearance. R. MESSENGER & CO., Sole Importers, 38 Fulton St., New York. [illegible] Wholesale Agents, Chicago.

CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS.—THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.—Prepared from a Prescription of Sir J. Clarke, M. D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.—This invaluable medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous diseases to which the female constitution is subject. It moderates all excess and removes all obstruction, and a speedy cure may be relied on. To Married Ladies it is peculiarly suited. It will, in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity. Each bottle, price one dollar, bears the Government Stamp of Great Britain, to prevent counterfeiting. CAUTION. These Pills should not be taken by females that are pregnant during the first three months, as they are sure to bring on miscarriage; but at every other time and in every other case they are perfectly safe. Sole Agents for the United States and Canada, I. C. BALDWIN & CO., Rochester, N. Y. TUTTLE & MOSES, Auburn, N. Y., General Agents. N.B.—$1.00 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized Agent, will ensure a bottle of the Pills by return mail. For sale by all Druggists in Chicago.

CONSUMPTION CURED.—Be not deceived by base imitations. HEGEMAN, CLARK & CO.'S GENUINE COD LIVER OIL, never disappoints, and nine years' experience has proved it superior to all others, and the only reliable cure for CONSUMPTION. As there is a great deal of spurious oil in the market adulterated with seal oil, whale oil, &c. no such care cannot be taken to procure the Genuine. Our oil is made at our own factory in Newfoundland, and each bottle has our signature over the cork, be sure to get Hegeman, Clark & Co., for since the Death of Mr. Rushton, our late partner, there has been an article introduced, called Rushton's, which is in no way connected with H. C. & Co. or H. C. & Co. Sold by—J. H. Reed & Co., Sears, Smith & Co., Penton & Robinson, Penton, Fisher & Co., Bay & Baldwin, Barker & Inde, Sawyer, Paige & Co. and Druggists generally.

DISCOVERED AT LAST!—Greatest Cure in the World for Pains!—Prof. Chas. DeGrath's "ELECTRIC OIL."—This Oil is the only sure remedy in the world for the cure of Rheumatism, Gout, Pains in the Back, Breast or Side, Palpitation of the Heart, Paralysis, Stroke, Toothache, Headache, Cramps in the Stomach, Scrofula, Frosted Feet, Sore Eyes, Piles, Sprains or Strains, Bruises, Sore Throats, Stiffness in the Joints, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Neuralgia, Sore Breasts, or any Diseases that are Sore or Painful, is the only article ever found [illegible] Sold Wholesale and Retail by FAHNESTOCK & DAVIS, No. 180 Randolph st.

FEVER AND AGUE.—Are you suffering from this distressing malady? Use Dr. Shallenberger's Pills, and be cured at once. If you doubt, go to the nearest Drug Store and get a pamphlet, in which you will find testimony in abundance, and from a class of persons who never gave out their names to appear in connection with medicines. Ask for Dr. Shallenberger's Fever and Ague Antidote, and see that you get PILLS; a dose every two days is all that you want, and in no case will you have the chill after commencing the use of the medicine. The original and only genuine ANTIDOTE FOR MALARIA. A. T. Shallenberger & Co., Proprietors, Rochester, Pa. J. H. REED & CO., Wholesale Agents, 144 and 146 Lake street, Chicago.

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES—DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS.—The combination of ingredients in these Pills are the result of a long and extensive practice. They are mild in their operation, and certain in correcting all irregularities, painful menstruations, removing all obstructions, whether from cold or otherwise, headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, disturbed sleep, which always arise from interruptions of nature. They can be successfully used as a preventive. These pills should never be taken in pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Explicit directions, which should be read, accompany each box. Price $1. For sale by C. V. Clickener & Co., No. 81 Barclay street, New York, Penton, Fisher & Co., 94 Lake street, and Penton & Robinson, 13 South Water street, Chicago.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. FOR THE RAPID CURE OF COUGHS, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma and Consumption. [illegible] Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass. Sold by J. H. REED & CO., 144 & 146 Lake street, Chicago, and Agents in every town in the United States and Canada.

Sawyer's Fluid Extract of Bark. AN INFALLIBLE REMEDY FOR THE FEVER AND AGUE, And the Various Forms of BILLIOUS DISEASES, Intermittent, Remittent, Chill Fever and DUMB AGUE, [illegible] PREPARED BY DR. S. SAWYER, AND sold by SAWYER, PAIGE & CO., Druggists, 78 Lake street, Chicago. [illegible]

Winter Extension.

In compliance with many urgent solicitations, CALVIN M. FITCH, late of New York, author of the Invalid's Guide and Consumptive's Manual, has concluded for the convenience of his Western patients to remain in CHICAGO during the present Winter.
Invalids of the West, especially those laboring under Consumption or other disease of the Throat, Lungs or Heart, Dyspepsia, or Female Diseases, may now avail themselves of Dr. Fitch's system of treatment without the expense, fatigue or delay of a visit to New York.
DR. C. M. FITCH desires that the public may not confound him with his former associate, Dr. S. S. Fitch, as no business connection longer exists between them, and as he claims the full credit justly due him for the greatly increased success which has attended his improvements upon their former mode of treating pulmonary affections.
Daily office hours from 10 to 4, excepting on the Sabbath and the afternoon of Saturday, and forenoon of Monday of each week, during which none but the most urgent cases can be attended to.
Consultation, personally or by mail, FREE.
Communications may be addressed,

Free from all caustic ingredients, it neither stains the skin of the head, or mingles with anything circulating through the fibres, nor emits any unpleasant odor. The application is clean and free, and in ten minutes, to any weather, and the rich natural hue imparted to the hair of the head, the whiskers and moustaches is unsurpassed ... Hence its popularity, and the wonderful rapidity with which it has superseded other dyes throughout the United States.
Price, small size ... $1.00; double ... 1.50.
It is supplied, and for sale, wholesale and retail, at manufacturers' prices.
J. H. REED & CO., 144 & 146 Lake street.

IMPORTANT TO THE DEAF AND DEAF AND DUMB.—Dr. M'LEOD, of Scotland, has arrived in Chicago, Ill., and may be consulted, at 115 Dearborn street, up stairs, a few doors south of the Post Office. Every attention is desired. Deafness, Giddiness, Noise in the Head, and all discharges from the Ear, Headache, Neuralgia, &c. Speedily removed.

This article is manufactured in London, under the rigorous espionage of the Excise Police, in accordance with the strict Excise Laws of Great Britain (which punish with severe penalties any admixture or adulteration of any article designed for food or drink), from the finest of barley, impregnated with the Juniper, and other favorite tonics from the Materia Medica. It has been submitted to the severest chemical tests, and recommended as a perfectly pure stimulant and beverage by Dr. Chilton, the celebrated chemist; Professor Hale, Drs. Castle, Turner, Barlow, Whitney, Beakley, Adams and Ricard, A. A. Hayes, State Assayer ... Dr. Warren, Boston, &c. (see circular accompanying each bottle) and several hundred physicians in every part of the United States, who constantly prescribe it for Dropsy, Kidney and gravel complaints, dyspepsia, gout, rheumatism, general depression and debility, and chronic remedies. In all districts where the water is bad or unwholesome—as in low and marshy regions—or where it affects the system ... this article will be found a positive cure and permanent preventive. It is put up in quart and pint bottles, with the words "R. H. Messenger & Co.'s London Cordial Gin" blown in the glass, neatly labeled and capsuled ... The labels are copy-righted in New York, and bear our own signature and our own name on the wax; and great care should be taken that it corresponds as above.
CAUTION.—In purchasing, be sure that it is absolutely "Messenger's," as unprincipled parties are engaged in palming off imitations.

As there is a great deal of spurious oil in the market adulterated with seal oil, whale oil, &c. so much care cannot be taken to procure the Genuine. Our oil is made at our own factory in Newfoundland, and we guarantee its purity. Be careful to see that the bottle has our signature over the cork, be careful to get Hegeman, Clark & Co., for since the Death of Mr. Rushton, our late partner, there has been an article introduced, called Rushton's, which is in no way connected with R. C. & Co. or H. C. & Co.
Sold by—J. H. Reed & Co., Sears, Smith & Co., Fenton & Robinson, Fenton, Fisher & Co., Bay & Baldwin, Bokee & Indo, Sawyer, Paige & Co., and Druggists generally.

The following beautiful and pathetic song is from the pen of T. P. Aldrich.

> "Where go you, pretty Maggie,
> Where go you in the rain,
> To gaze upon the sailors
> Who sailed the Spanish main.
>
> If they have seen my Willie,
> I'll bid some back to me—
> 'Tis sad to have my darling
> A sailing on the sea."
>
> "O Maggie, pretty Maggie,
> Turn back to yonder town,
> Your Willie's in the ocean,
> An hundred fathoms down.
>
> His hair has turned to sea-pell,
> His eyes have changed to stones,
> And twice two years have knitted
> The coral round his bones!"
>
> The blossoms and the clover
> Shall bloom and bloom again,
> But never shall your lover
> Come o'er the Spanish main!"
>
> But Maggie never heeded,
> And mournfully said she:
> "'Tis sad to have my darling
> A sailing on the sea!"
>
> She left me in the darkness—
> I heard the sea-gull's screech,
> And barely winds were growling,
> With breakers on the beach!
>
> The blithe bells of Nantucket,
> What touching things they said,
> When Maggie lay a sleeping
> With lilies round her head!
>
> The parson preached a sermon,
> And I prayed and prayed again;
> But Maggie'd gone to Willie
> Across the Spanish main!

A Vermont Genius.

There is, or at least there was, a few days since, in Brattleboro', Vermont, just at the fork in the roads near the Asylum, a beautifully sculptured figure of the Goddess of Fame, rather larger than life size. Standing thus, out of the world of civilization, as it were, it fixes the traveler's attention; and as he approaches near enough to mark the finished lines, the expression and grace depicted, surprise and admiration are awakened. The white snow upon the ground lends an additional charm, and the reined-in horse is turned aside to afford still closer inspection. The design indicates decided genius. Fame has just recorded the past year's history. Her right hand still grasping the pen, has fallen carelessly to her side, while her left hand, holding the tablet, rests upon her knee—her attention, for the moment, being engrossed with passing and changing objects yet to be recorded. The effect is striking; and when we picture the traveler leaving his wagon or sleigh to scrutinize the figure still more closely, we do but tell of what occurred many times a day, and day after day; and this close scrutiny is necessary to detect the fact that the whole figure is made of snow and ice, while the tablet and pen are but pieces of an old cigar box. Its history, as reported to us, is, that it was designed and reared during the night before Christmas, by a youth named Mead, who is but nineteen years of age, and who, from the circumstances in which he has been placed, has had but slender advantages for cultivating his remarkable artistic taste and talent. During a single night, by the light of a lantern, young Mead constructed of blocks of frozen snow, on which water had been poured, this statue; and when the morning's light came, it revealed to the gaze of astonished passers-by a work of beauty which genius alone could form or conceive. Think of the enthusiasm which must have inspired this youth, as he formed piece by piece, by the dim light of his lamp, in the silent hours of a cold winter night, this snowy offering of genius to the new born year! As we looked, and looked again, and admired more and more the exquisite finish of the statue, we could not repress the wish that fortune had been more kind to so deserving a votary of fame. Young Mead, when a mere boy, displayed his passion for sculpture, and many a dwelling in his native place bears, in figures cut in bas-relief, undoubted evidences of genius and enthusiastic love of the art.—N. Y. Sun.

Depraved Literature in England.

From a communication in the London Times, we take the following extract showing the extent to which immoral books are circulated in England. We presume they circulate in a similar proportion in this country:

The haunts of the lower classes are flooded with literature of the vilest character. It was proved in evidence given before the House of Commons in the year 1851, that the sale of immoral and infidel publications amounted to 29,000,000 annually. It is difficult to take in figures, but it is appalling to be told by the Edinburgh Review that this is more than the total issue of the Society for the Promotion of Christian Knowledge, the Religious Tract Society, the Scottish Bible Society, the Trinitarian Bible Society, and some 70 religious magazines combined.

Handbills, too, and pictures of a depraved character, were being widely spread abroad. Thus there were sold of the last dying speech and confession of Good, 1,650,000; of Courvosier, 1,666,000; of the Mannings, 2,000,000; of Rush, 2,500,000; and Greenacre, 1,666,000. The trash sold with reference to Palmer's case must have greatly exceeded any of the above sales. Nor was there any mystery as to the way in which such an enormous circulation was obtained for these publications. Hawkers plied trade in town and country, and brought their literature to the very door of the laborer's cottage.

Commerce of California.

During the year 1856, there was exported from California, in treasure, $50,697,434. Of this, $39,765,294 was sent to New York, $8,666,289 to England, $1,308,852 to China, and the residue, in sums ranging from $5,000 to $253,268, to Panama, the Sandwich Islands, Manilla, New Orleans, Peru, Australia, Calcutta, Chili, Costa Rica, and the Society Islands. The total shipments of treasure in 1855 were $45,182,631. Increase in 1856, $5,514,803. The exports of treasure in 1854 were $51,429,000; in 1853, $54,492,000; in 1852, $45,779,000; in 1851, $34,492,000. It is believed that the exports of gold, from 1848 to 1850, inclusive, may have amounted to $66,000,000. So that we have a total recorded export of about $360,000,000 since the first discovery of the precious ore. It is noticed as somewhat remarkable, that, of the increased shipments of treasure in 1856 over 1855, those to England and China make up the greater proportion. Nearly a million more of money was sent to China in '56 than in the preceding year; this is owing to there having been large amounts of dollars and doubloons received at San Francisco from Mexico during the past six months, for transhipment to China for English account. There is a constant demand for silver in England for China and the East Indies, and the fact being ascertained that it is a saving of 2 per cent. in freight and insurance, as well as of time, to ship from Mexico via San Francisco rather than via Southampton, this route has been selected, and for the future, or, at least, until the course of trade changes, we may expect to see the shipments of treasure to China figure up annually a large total. The exports of quicksilver from California in 1856 were 23,740 flasks, of which 2,414 were for New York; total value, $883,185. The total value of exports other than treasure was $4,270,514, of which amount $1,113,500 was for New York. The tonnage from all quarters arriving at San Francisco in 1856 comprised 1,455 vessels, of 440,015 tons, against 1,520 vessels, of 517,910 tons, in 1855. The total number of departures for 1856 was 1,283, comprising 445,867 tons. The total coinage of the United States branch mint at San Francisco for the year 1856 was $28,524,881 25. The immigration during the year has not been as great as was expected, the total number of arrivals having been 28,265. This, deducting the departures, shows a net gain of 5,312.

FLOATING DRY DOCK—A NEW INVENTION.—A Mr. John Seely, of Buffalo, a practical mechanic, has lately invented certain improvements in floating dry docks, which it is said are so simple, cheap and effective, as in all probability to supersede most other plans now in use. A Buffalo paper says: "We have examined a working model of his improvements, which fully and clearly demonstrates the principle, and its practical utility. We are informed by the inventor and believe that it will not cost more than one-tenth as much as an ordinary dock, and when constructed, will be ten times more effective. It is so contrived that the largest vessels may be 'docked' in ten minutes, and the lifting power of the dock upon the vessel may be so governed that if a vessel has been strained or sprung out of shape, it may be 'righted up' in the process of docking. The arrangement is such that the lifting power may be thrown entirely on the bow or stern, or middle of the vessel, and may be graduated at these points, so as to suit the condition of the vessel, and bring her out of the water 'righted up.' A vessel may be 'docked' after she is loaded for a voyage, and her sea-worthiness examined, and not consume more than twenty minutes in the act of docking and discharging her from the dock. There are many more advantages which we may hereafter speak of more in detail. The invention must become of great importance to ship owners and commercial towns. We understand that Mr. Seely contemplates the construction of a series of docks on his new plan, to accommodate the shipping interests of Buffalo."

THE LEGEND OF A HORSESHOE.—This is the simple legend on one. A good countryman was taking a rural walk with his son, little Thomas. As they walked along, the father suddenly stopped.

'Look!' he said, 'There's a bit of iron, a piece of a horseshoe, pick it up, and put it in your pocket.'

'Pooh!' answered the child. 'It is not worth stopping for.'

The father, without saying another word, picked up the iron, and put it in his pocket. When they came to a village, he entered the blacksmith's shop, and sold it for three farthings, and with that sum he bought some cherries. Then the father and son set off again on their ramble. The sun was burning hot, and neither a house, tree, nor fountain of water, were in sight. Thomas soon complained of being tired and had some difficulty in following his father, who walked on with a firm step. Perceiving that his boy was tired, the father let fall a cherry, as if by accident. Thomas stopped and quickly picked it up, and devoured it. A little farther he dropped another, and the boy picked it up as eagerly as ever; and thus they continued, the father dropping the fruit, and the son picking them up. When the last one was eaten the father stopped and turning to the boy, said: 'Look my son! If you had chosen to stoop once, and pick up the piece of horseshoe, you would not have been obliged at last to stoop so often to pick up the cherries!'

There's a good and plentiful moral in this little anecdote, which may be of benefit to all of us.

The sugar crop at Liberia is flourishing so well that they expect to send a cargo to the United States. One of the colonists, named Richardson, expects to ship two hundred hogsheads of sugar of his own planting.

SNOW BIRDS AFRAID OF THE COLD.—N. P. WILLIS has a flock of pet snow birds, of which he writes, during the late cold snap:

I observed one thing, yesterday, that may interest the lovers of natural history. The cold was so severe that the snow birds preferred hunger to encountering it—for the first time this winter not stirring from their nests all day. I know it by the little flock that I feed so carefully on the piazza roof under my study window. With the "regular board" I give them they have grown so singularly fat as to look unlike any other snow birds that I see about the country (brighter feathered as well as rounder shaped) and they have courage and voracity, I know. But their crumbs were untouched that cold day. They came this morning, as usual, however, and make up their "fast" with fast feeding.

We see that the St. Louis Democrat sets down the export of breadstuffs for 1856 at 77,000,000. This is a large stretch beyond the fact. Our cotemporary is led into error by taking the agricultural products and summing them up as breadstuffs. But we take it that beef, tallow, hides, butter, cheese and pork can hardly be ranked as breadstuffs. On this class of articles, the export is 18,000,000, and breadstuffs proper 59,000,000, making together the 77,000,000 of the Democrat. The Chicago Tribune makes the same blunder.—Toledo Blade.

HORRIBLE CASE OF PUNNING—THE PERPETRATOR STILL AT LARGE!—"Charley," said old Mr. Roundy to his partner, as he entered the warm counting-room of the firm, on —— wharf, yesterday morning, "cutting out this steamer 'America' reminds me of the time they cut out the Britannia in '44, and of the capital pun I made about it"—and the "senior" chuckled and rubbed his hands before the fire. "Well, sir, what was it?" said his junior. "Why I asked 'em why the 'Britannia' should have her name changed before she was cut; and the reason is obvious. Because she was blocked in (block tin)." There was a pause, during which the offender quietly walked out. He has hitherto been considered one of our "first merchants."—Boston Journal.

NEW BUILDINGS.—We have been endeavoring to obtain some idea of the value of the new buildings erected in our city last year, nearly all of which are now complete, or will be in a few weeks; but have found that the estimates vary very much. Taking the value of the buildings as they will stand when completed, that is, what they will sell for, our estimate would be as follows:

Churches	$30,000
Hotels, mills, shops, factories, &c.	45,000
Brick and marble stores	125,000
Minor stores	25,000
First class dwellings	40,000
Other dwellings	50,000
	$315,000

This is a very fair showing for a city fifty miles from a railroad, and on no great through line of travel. The increase has been all legitimate, and what was called for by the absolute demand of business.—Grand Rapids Herald.

MARRIAGE.—If I were talking to my own daughter, I would entreat her never to allow herself to dwell upon marriage as an object of life. Dignity and delicacy sink, I cannot say how rapidly, when once that idea takes possession of the mind; and so for happiness there is no more miserable being in existence than a woman, past the excitement of youth, aiming to be married for the sake of being married. She becomes more and more dissatisfied and envious, and neglectful of present duties. May you never become what I have seen many others, solely from the influence of this one false, degrading principle.

FROZEN TO DEATH.—On Friday evening, 23d ult., about 8 o'clock, Capt. Spinney, a resident of Illinois, but recently on a visit to this, his native State, started from Freedom village to walk to his old homestead, only about four miles distant, and was found on Saturday morning within about two rods and a half of the door, upon his hands and knees with his head in the snow, frozen to death.—Rockland, Me. Democrat.

GREAT COOLNESS BETWEEN MEN AND WOMEN.—A ball was given by the United States officers on the prairies at Lecompton, Kansas, on New Years Eve. The ladies all wore Mackinaw shawls and overshoes, and at the end of every cotillon, would run to the fire and warm their noses. The supper was served in a tent, and all hands turned in about midnight. In the morning, holes were cut in the ice in the Kaw river, that the ladies might wash their faces. How do the thinly dressed belles who foot it in our gas-lighted, over-warmed ball rooms, like the picture?

EXPERIENCED FEMALES.—A mother and four daughters, all of whom reside in Northampton, have, collectively, approached the altar of Hymen seventeen times! The mother has had four husbands, one of her daughters four, and the others three each.

Have now for sale—
Memoirs, Journal and Correspondence of
THOMAS MOORE,
EDITED BY
LORD JOHN RUSSELL.
2 vols. royal 8vo. cloth, $4.50.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.
"Who has not heard of Tom Moore, the Irish Poet? To all who have ever read his popular Melodies, this new work will prove exceedingly interesting, especially the autobiography of the poet, from his earliest recollection to manhood. We heartily recommend it."—New York Courier.
"Thomas Moore is the last of the great poets that flourished in the beginning of the century. A biography of him, so ably written, must be eagerly sought after."—New York Com. Adv.
"This work has been looked for with much interest by the admirers of the sweetest bard of modern times. The work has not disappointed us. The sparkling vivacity of Moore's letters will recommend them as models of style to those who aim at eminence in epistolary correspondence."—Albany Register.
"Every one who has the least taste for elegant literature will at once procure a copy of the work."—Charleston Courier.
"Lord John Russell has worthily redeemed an early promise made to his poet friend, to edit his papers if he survived him."—Palladium.
"Every one who has the least taste for elegant literature will at once procure a copy of this work."—Chicago Press.
"Moore the man, once more in the vigor of manhood to tell Moore the poet, and others listening to what he has to say of himself, will once more, and yet once more, prepare to say their say of him. Two or three carriages followed an old body to its grave not long ago—a spirit that once tabernacled in that body is now before us, ushered into the world's presence by the Lordly John. So the world wags—let it."—Rochester Democrat.
"It seems to us that Lord John Russell has prepared a very creditable work indeed. He evidently enter d upon it con amore, and has, we think, pursued it to the end with fidelity, enthusiasm, and accuracy."—British Colonist.
"The work has two great attractions—one on the subject, the other, the editor. But our cannot look into it without seeing that it answers fully the highest expectation that could be legitimately formed of it. The work will, of course, be a gem in the literature of the day."—Albany Argus.
"That it is edited with ability, the name of England's great statesman is a guarantee."—New York Churchman.
"Moore's Life, by Russell, presents a striking picture of English life, such as came within the observation and experience of the poet."—Southern Christian Advocate.
"Tom Moore has just such a soul as would pour its fullness into a diary of daily life, or a friendly correspondence; and those who have loved him as his human nature will not be disappointed in his memoirs."—Nashville Chronicle.
"We have here the minute facets et cetera of one of the most versatile, voluptuous and melodious bards who ever sung. His intimacies with all the geniuses of the day, whether they were poets, artists or statesmen, and the naivete with which he loosely rattles away, about every thing he knows of them, confer an interest to the book; ... Fire and Water-proof Cement ROOFING.
W. E. CHILDS & CO.'S PATENT.

WE ARE NOW PREPARED TO PLACE W. E. CHILDS & CO.'S
Patent Fire and Water-proof Elastic Cement
ROOFING,
Upon buildings of all descriptions in this City and Country, and solicit orders from builders and others.
This is the only roofing material yet discovered which will successfully resist the action of the weather in all climates. It is perfectly fire and water proof; and, in point of durability, superior to any other material now in use—except tile, and these are by far too costly for ordinary buildings.
We can put it on over tin, iron or shingles, it making NO DIFFERENCE HOW FLAT OR STEEP THE ROOF MAY BE. This Roofing is warranted to prove as above represented. We will put it on for $6 per square—(10 feet square)—being as cheap, if not cheaper, than shingles.
We invite all who are building, or who wish the roofs of their buildings repaired, to call at the Agency of the Ætna Insurance Company, 64 South Water street, at the foot of Lasalle, where all information will be cheerfully furnished.

Potters and Brickmakers,
ATTENTION!

THE UNDERSIGNED HAS FOR SALE OR rent, for a term of years, 100 acres of good timber land, four miles north of Racine, on the Lake Shore, having one of the best banks of clay in the Western States, for Pottery or Brick, with every natural advantage for manufacturing the above articles. Plenty of wood, water running through the land, and good moulding sand on the surface; a fine chance of shipping from the yard, in 13 to 20 feet water, 100 rods from the shore. The market for Pottery or Brick in Racine is equal to that of any other place, and these articles can be manufactured as cheap, and sold as high as at any other within a hundred miles of Chicago. This is the best opening for a Potter or Brickmaker now existing at the West.
The subscriber, not having capital sufficient for the undertaking, will give a great bargain to any party wishing to engage in the business. Apply soon to RACINE, WISCONSIN.—At the present time this prettiest of Lake shore towns, offers great inducements for the investment of capital. It has a population of 10,000 inhabitants, and is the terminus of the Racine and Mississippi Railroad. With a fine harbor and Commercial advantages equal to those of Chicago, possessing as it does, a great combination of natural and artificial advantages, and in beauty of scenery, health, society, churches, colleges, schools, railroad and water communication with the East, Northwest and South, the city is destined to become one of the largest and most important cities on the Lake. It is acknowledged by all to be the most desirable place for residence, as well as business of any place in the West.

Parties desiring a more particular description are requested to call on Clark, Heald & Moore, No. 5 Wells st. Chicago, or H. Warren & Co., No. 134 Main street, Racine, who are offering a variety of the chances for good investments in the above place.

SEWING MACHINES.

HAVING LONG SEEN THE NECESSITY of an office permanently located in this city, we have taken Rooms at 79 Clark street, opposite the Court House, where the machines will be at all times on exhibition and for sale. With our new and improved fast Machine, we are enabled to do twice as much work in the same time, as can be done with the old style.

For Quilting, Cloth, Harness Making, Carriage Trimming, Shoe Making, Hat Binding, and Mattress making, this machine is indispensable.

Those having inferior machines of other manufacture, and wishing to exchange, we will allow them $50, deducting freight to N. Y.

A full assortment of Silk, Thread and Needles, constantly on hand.

Machines will be repaired at the office with despatch, and at reasonable rates.

BELL'S
COMMERCIAL COLLEGE,
COR. STATE AND RANDOLPH STREETS,
Entrance, No. 72 State street.
INSTITUTED SEPTEMBER, 1850.
Incorporated by the Legislature of Illinois, Feb., 1853.

FACULTY.

President—Hon. D. V. BELL.
Vice-President—THOS. J. SLOAN, A. M., Prof. of Double Entry Book Keeping, and Lecturer on the General Laws of Trade, Exchange and Accounts.
ROBERT J. BLACKWELL, Prof. of Commercial Law.
Hon. ANDREW HARVIE, Prof. of Political Economy and Laws of Nations.
E. B. ROCKWELL, Prof. of Book-Keeping Department.
H. ORVILLE BROWN, Prof. of Mathematics.
ALBERT KIDDER, Prof. of Penmanship.
D. S. HEALD, B. O. CASS, T. M. FORD, P. C. HANFORD, E. B. WALLACE, Tutors Book-Keeping Department.
GEORGE T. CLINE, Teacher of the Art of Detecting Counterfeit and Altered Bank Notes.

THE EXTRAORDINARY PATRONAGE bestowed upon this long established and popular institution, affords gratifying evidence that the superior advantages and facilities it affords for the acquisition of a thorough knowledge of the various branches of a Commercial Education, are favorably appreciated by a discerning and intelligent community.

Over two hundred full course students have been in attendance during the past winter, which is an amount of patronage unparalleled in this country.

The Collegiate Course is the most extensive, complete and thorough ever introduced into any Commercial College in this country, and comprises practical instruction in Book-Keeping and Accounts adapted to every kind of business, including an elaborate work on Railroad Book Keeping and Accounts, prepared by the President of this College, (formerly Cashier of the Michigan Central Railroad Co.,) expressly for its use: a knowledge of which to the student is, alone, worth to him more than the tuition fees paid for the entire course, together with commercial calculations pertaining to the Counting Room, Business Penmanship and the subject of Commercial Law.

The design of the institution being to qualify its students for the practical and intelligent discharge of an accountant's duties, the school is therefore considered a Counting Room, and the students at once introduced to the workings and routine of business.

The school is in continued session, and students being instructed individually and not in classes, may enter whenever they please, and each student is entitled to a life scholarship.

In addition to the able corps of instructors employed in this College, valuable acquisitions have been made by the association of Thomas J. Sloan, Esq., late of Pennsylvania, a graduate of one of the first Eastern Colleges, and a professional teacher of high rank and much experience, who will superintend the Counting Room Department; by the appointment of Hon. Andrew Harvie, Prof. of Political Economy and Laws of Nations; and also by the engagement of Albert Kidder, Esq., the popular American Card Writer, as Prof. of Penmanship, whose specimens of penmanship received the highest premium at the great State Fair held in New York city in 1854.

Arrangements are made for the delivery at Metropolitan Hall of a series of free public lectures, during the ensuing winter, by several of our distinguished citizens, who have kindly and generously consented to co-operate in the enterprise. The course will be similar to that delivered before this college last winter, which elicited the highest commendations of the public and the press.

No expense or effort is spared to render the Institution worthy of the liberal and general patronage bestowed upon it, and so ample guaranty is afforded of the ability of the school to impart a sound business education in a manner, in accordance to the wide range of every department and in its various departments.

Students being instructed individually, and not in classes may enter whenever they please. Circulars and Catalogues furnished gratis, on application at the college.

Chicago, Oct. 28.

Boys' School.

A. J. SAWYER, A. M., LATE PRINCIPAL of the Chicago Female Seminary, will open a School for boys on Monday, November 3d, 1856, in the First Baptist Church, corner of Lake and Washington streets, entrance on LaSalle street. The number will be limited to 25 pupils, who will be instructed entirely by Mr. Sawyer, except in French and German, the former of which will be taught by Mons. Jacques Emile Hamilton, and the latter by an experienced native teacher.

Penmanship.

THE KIDDERIAN SYSTEM OF GEOMETRICAL Penmanship, originated and perfected by Prof. A. Kidder, who will commence a series of Lessons for the winter, in Bell's Commercial College Buildings, Thursday, Nov. 20th. The system is plain, easy, clear, natural and perfect. The Business Man will here acquire a bold free-flowing practical hand. Ladies taught a beautiful graceful current style. Prof. Kidder is popularly known as the "American Writer," and his system has a national importance. Tuition 20 lessons, $3. Ladies classes at 3 o'clock P. M. Gentlemen's and Evening at 7 o'clock evening. Visiting, invitation and wedding cards written at Tremont House, during the day, in a superior elegant style that surpasses engraving.

Fever and Ague.

PERSONS AFFLICTED WITH THE Chills and Fever, or Intermittent Fevers, are respectfully informed that we are in receipt of the most remarkable Medicines for the above complaints ever discovered. No one need be discouraged in future.

Thayer's Omega Pills, will effect a cure at once, if taken according to directions. Hundreds of people who are now suffering, have permitted the disease to be lurking about the system, throughout the year—unfitting them for any business. Will such continue to do so, when they have the means at hand now that will restore them to perfect health within a few days.

Call and procure a pamphlet, read the Certificates of those who have been cured by this valuable medicine, and try it yourselves.

DR. HUBBELL,
Proprietor of
Chicago Medical Infirmary,
80.....LAKE STREET.....80

DR. HUBBELL BEGS LEAVE TO INFORM the public that, in consequence of the great increase of business which has attended his practice for the last year, he has been obliged to enlarge his professional rooms. Connected with his office, he has now five rooms, well provided for the reception of patients, where they are enabled to consult him with privacy and without exposure.

In the treatment of all cases which have come under his supervision, in which the patients have strictly followed his instructions, he has been eminently successful, and has thus obtained the large practice which he now enjoys.

It is folly for those who continue to indulge in evil practice and self abuse, to seek any physician, and to seek he can expect of thirteen years in the treatment of private diseases in the most difficult forms of surgery, he has attained an eminence which but few enjoy. [illegible]

Dr. Hubbell's practice in New York Hospitals has made him familiar with the treatment of Syphilis, Gleet, Gonorrhoea, Strictures and all venereal affections. He has treated cases of debility of the most alarming nature, and his mode of treatment is entirely different from that of other physicians. [illegible]

Dr. Hubbell will tell his patients plainly upon the first examination whether a cure can be obtained, and unless he can undertake a cure will charge nothing for the examination.

FEMALE DISEASES.—Ladies may visit the Dr. with perfect confidence, as he has rooms especially for their treatment. [illegible]

Having been long established in this city, he can appeal to all for a certificate of success, which could be obtained. Persons living at a distance, by giving a plain statement of their case, will be attended to, and medicines forwarded by express to all parts of the United States.

Address, J. Hubbell, M. D., Box 1657, Post Office.

HESLER'S

Daguerreotype, Photograph & Fine Art Gallery,
Nos. 22, 21, 23 & 27, Metropolitan Block, La Salle St.

THE SUBSCRIBER TAKES PLEASURE and pride in being able to announce to the public that his magnificent establishment is now in complete and successful operation, and comprises one of the most extensive and best appointed Photographic Gallery in the world; fitted up at a cost of twenty thousand dollars. It contains all that is new and beautiful in the Photographic art. The light and the arrangements for the production of the finest gems of life and beauty, are arranged on the most approved and scientific principle, and are the result of years of untiring labor and study. The success of the splendid Pictures produced are abundantly attested by the praises of the public, and the awards of the highest prices in every Fair or place where these Pictures have been exhibited.

Every style of Photographic Pictures is here produced in its highest perfection. Hesler's Daguerreotypes are too well known to require a word of mention. Hesler's Crystalotypes, or Daguerreotypes on Glass, by some called Ambrotypes, are claimed to be imperishable, are here taken in the highest perfection.

Hesler & Joslin's Photographs are taken in every style and size, from the smallest miniature to full life size. These are taken on Ivory, Paper and Canvas—the life and animation on canvas are made precisely like any other first class oil painting, with the exception that the drawing in all the faithfulness and beauty of light and shade is made in the Daguerreotype Camera, thus giving a more perfect likeness than is possible to attain by the old method of Portrait Painting.

Persons having Daguerreotypes of deceased or absent friends, can have them copied of any size and with all the beauty and fidelity of nature.

The public are cordially invited to visit the Gallery, and see its productions.

Wines & Liquors.

POST & THOMPSON,
43 Franklin St., bet. Lake & Randolph,
CHICAGO..........ILLINOIS,
IMPORTERS OF
BRANDIES, WINES AND SEGARS.
Also, Agents for the Central Society of Vineyard Proprietors
—OF—
Cognac Brandies from the Growers Direct.

ONE OF THE PRINCIPAL AND GREAT causes of the high price of Brandy in this market is the indirect source from which it is derived. Nine-tenths of that imported is received from mercantile houses in Cognac who buy of the farmers in the districts and ship it to the United States, and such advances and frequently in an adulterated state. In view of the facts, and for the purpose of securing a fair price for their product, a union of Brandy growers in France has been accomplished with the view of shipment to the United States.

The name of the consolidation is the Central Society of Vineyard Proprietors of Cognac, under the management of a president and a committee of inspection of eight members. The society itself numbers five hundred vineyard proprietors amongst them some of the most influential noblemen in the neighborhood of Cognac, who contribute under certain bylaws, the entire growth of their vineyards to the general fund of the society, the present capital of which is $[illegible].

The advantages to be obtained from this combination are as apparent as to render unnecessary any further comment upon the subject; nevertheless, it may be worthy of observation that few features in this society possesses a more striking claim to public attention, than the fact of the abolition of the profits hitherto obtained by the middle men between buyer and seller. Since all are shareholders, it necessarily becomes the interest of each individual to contribute to the society in order to uphold the reputation which the society is endeavoring to gain, of shipping only the best qualities of Brandies. For this purpose a clause introduced into the statutes (article 40) renders it imperative that shareholders shall supply the society with the very best Cognac Brandies, otherwise they incur the liabilities of an entire forfeiture of their shares. The undersigned agents in the United States for the Central Society of Vineyard Proprietors of Cognac would solicit the attention of

DRUGGISTS, MERCHANTS, HOTEL KEEPERS, GROCERS,

And others, to the vintages now on hand, confident that they will compare more than favorable with any article in the market, and at prices far below the standard even of ordinary Cognac. And as we import our Brandies direct to Chicago, we are enabled to sell at a less price than any other house in the city. The different vintages can be had in bond or duty paid.
